BID MADE FOR DEATH STAY

D. C. Attorney Handling Case 'For Nothing'

By Don Walton

What could well be the first of 9 separate applications before the U.S. Supreme Court for a stay of execution for mass slayer Charles Starkweather was filed Tuesday by a Washington attorney.

Justice Charles E. Whittaker, who is presiding justice of the Eighth Judicial Circuit Court, will rule on the application, probably Wednesday.

If the decision is unfavorable to Starkweather, attorney James J. Laughlin of Washington, D. C., told The Star by telephone, he will take the matter to another of the high court's 9 justices.

All 9 If Necessary
"We will approach each of the 9 if necessary," Laughlin said.

Justice Hugo L. Black will be the next member of the tribunal to be contacted if Whittaker refuses to order a stay, Laughlin said.

Next, he said, would be Chief Justice Earl Warren. Justice William O. Douglas is fourth in line, with Justice William J. Brennan Jr., next. No order has yet been determined following Brennan, Laughlin said.

Death Set For Friday

Starkweather is scheduled to die in Nebraska's electric chair shortly after midnight Thursday.

Justice Whittaker was studying the application late Tuesday, the attorney noted. A decision, he said, would likely wait receipt of a telegram from Atty. Gen. C. S. Beck opposing the application.

A ruling should be forthcoming Wednesday, Laughlin estimated.

Called By Father

The attorney, 61, told The Star he was first contacted by Starkweather's father, Guy, by telephone from Lincoln Monday night.

Laughlin received a telegram from the elder Starkweather Tuesday morning, he said, asking that the attorney "intervene with the Supreme Court."

Asked how Starkweather came in contact with Laughlin's name, the attorney replied: "I don't know how he got my name."

Laughlin, who said he defended "Axis Sally" in the famed 1949 sedition trial, said he was serving "without compensation."

The attorney, a graduate of Georgetown University, last year obtained the release from prison of Kathryn (Mrs. Machine Gun) Kelly and her mother, Mrs. Ora Shannon, after they had served 22 years in connection with the Charles Urschel kidnapping, United Press International reported.

3 Choices

Justice Whittaker, Laughlin said, would have 3 choices in the matter: grant the stay, refuse the stay or refer the matter to the entire court.

The court, however, has concluded its regular sessions until October.

Laughlin, a member of the American Bar Assn., said his junior partner, Albert J. Ahern Jr., would assist him in the Starkweather matter. Laughlin lists his home as Indianapolis, Ind.

In the stay request filed with the Supreme Court clerk, the attorneys said they were "not conversant" with the circumstances of Starkweather's trial, but "it appears from information in the public press that a question was raised as to adequate assistance of counsel."

The attorneys said this contention would have to be determined by investigation.

Back To State

Starkweather, they said, may find it necessary to apply to state courts to raise constitutional questions and, failing there, to apply to a Federal District Court in Nebraska.

No such efforts could be made, the application noted, if Starkweather is denied a stay.

The Washington attorneys said it was their view that "there was not a full hearing on the merits of the case in the Eighth Circuit."

'Much Publicity'

"The trial was in the state court and due to the circumstances of the offenses alleged in the indictment much publicity was engendered," the application stated.

"In fact, many of the articles were inflammatory which virtually made it impossible to obtain a fair and impartial jury."

"We believe this publicity and the nature of it violated the due process clause since unfavorable material was fed by the prosecutors to the public press."

Beck Wires Court

Atty. Gen. Beck was notified of the application by a telephone call from Laughlin. He promptly wired the Supreme Court.

"The state of Nebraska opposes any stay of execution in this case."

Enclosed was a copy of the order of the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals of June 4 denying an appeal from a previous denial for a writ of habeas corpus and a stay of execution.

'Fully Reviewed'

"His (Starkweather's) rights have been fully reviewed by the Federal Court . . . the state of Nebraska prays the request for stay of execution be denied," Beck wired.

Acting Penitentiary Warden John Greenholtz was then notified of the pending application.

The early Friday morning execution hour for Starkweather is his fourth. Three have previously been stayed. The 20-year-old redhead, convicted of the slaying of Bennet teenager Robert Jensen, has admitted involvement in 11 killings.

Starkweather's father has also indicated that he will seek a writ of habeas corpus in Lancaster County District Court.

Mercury Climbs To 93 At Chadron

Temperatures continued their upward climb in Nebraska Tuesday, jumping to a state high of 93 at Chadron. Chadron also scored the lowest reading with 53.

Scottsbluff also climbed over the 90 mark with a reading of 92. Lincoln reached a high of 88 at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

Partly cloudy skies and continued highs in the 80s are on tap Wednesday. Thunder showers in the northwest are predicted for Wednesday afternoon and evening.

Gromyko Is Handed Ultimatum On Berlin

Geneva (UPI) — The western Big 3 Tuesday handed Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko an ultimatum to give way on Berlin or go home empty handed without a summit talks agreement. Gromyko delayed his answer for 24 hours, and the Geneva conference went into the crisis stage.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and his British and French colleagues called the showdown in the 30th day of the foreign ministers conference during a 24-hour secret session at Herter's villa. Gromyko renewed Russia's demands that the western allies clear out of West Berlin and that it be turned into a "free demilitarized city."

"Tonight, the impression of the western powers is one of pessimism," U.S. Assistant Secretary of State Andrew W. Berding told newsmen.

The West was agreed there was no point in continuing the talks unless Russia was willing to guarantee western rights in Berlin.

They were further agreed that there could be no summit talks—which Russia wants—without this Soviet guarantee.

Gromyko stalled. There was some evidence that his re-statement of the Russian demands was intended to be a new proposal. But the West rejected it as "unacceptable."

At the end of the meeting, Herter, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville left it up to the Soviet Foreign Minister to say whether he wants to keep the conference alive.

He did so by asking a semi-public session Wednesday, at which he can speak for the public record. None of the ministers made a move to have any more secret meetings.

Constitution Meet Vote Bill Defeated

... Would Have Been On '60 Ballot

By Betty Person

An attempt to allow Nebraska voters to decide whether they want a constitutional convention was whacked down by the Legislature Tuesday on a 26-15 vote.

Sen. Fern Hubbard Orme's LB606, which would have put the question on the 1960 general election ballot went down to defeat on a motion from Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha.

The bill had ridden over a rocky path throughout its life, first having been killed 5-2 by the Judiciary Committee, then revived on the floor by a 26-14 vote.

Switched Vote

When the vote was taken Tuesday, Sen. David Tew of Norfolk, strong backer of the bill, switched his vote to the prevailing side for "purposes of reconsideration" at a later date.

In presenting his motion to kill the bill, Sen. Klaver said estimates on the cost of a constitutional convention range from $750,000 to $1 million. He said he believed the cost would not be justified because "our constitution serves us well and a convention is not needed or necessary."

In her defense of the bill, Sen. Orme pointed out that the cost of amending the constitution from 1924 to 1958 has totaled $421,696. The Lincoln senator argued that the cost of a convention would be money well spent to revise and streamline the constitution.

'Voted For Us'

"Do you not feel the people should have the opportunity to vote on this question?" Sen. Orme asked, adding that "they are the same people who voted for us and we thought they showed good judgment then."

Sen. Ray Simmons of Fremont speaking in opposition to the bill, said changes to the constitution should be made "gradually" through the present system of amendments, and that there was no point in continuing the talks unless Russia was willing to guarantee western rights in Berlin.

They were further agreed that there could be no summit talks—which Russia wants—without this Soviet guarantee.

Gromyko stalled. There was some evidence that his re-statement of the Russian demands was intended to be a new proposal. But the West rejected it as "unacceptable."

At the end of the meeting, Herter, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville left it up to the Soviet Foreign Minister to say whether he wants to keep the conference alive.

He did so by asking a semi-public session Wednesday, at which he can speak for the public record. None of the ministers made a move to have any more secret meetings.

Crisis

Western delegates talked freely of a crisis.

"The fact of the matter is, we have had a series of meetings without any progress," said Berding, the U.S. spokesman.

"It is anyone's guess how much longer the conference will last under this situation—that is without any progress being achieved."

Berding said the western powers came to Berlin 5 weeks ago "under a spirit of willingness to negotiate."

He said they "still have that willingness. We expect that spirit from the other side, but so far have detected no such willingness."

There have been 10 secret meetings with Gromyko and 15 semi-public sessions.

Apparently appreciating the fact that the conference had reached the moment of decision where every word counted, Gromyko stopped speaking in his fluent English and spoke in Russian. A translator gave the western ministers his every word.

After he departed, Lloyd and Couve de Murville remained behind in Herter's villa for a 40-minute discussion of western strategy.

—GRINDING HEAD-ON CRASH—

Day's Toll 5 As 3 Die Near Concord

From Press Dispatches

One of the bloodiest single days of the year on state roads was notched Tuesday as 5 persons died in 3 separate crashes.

The worst crash was near Concord, where 3 persons died on a county road 5½ miles east of town Tuesday night.

Three persons were killed in a two car collision 7 miles north of Wakefield and 5 and a half miles east of Concord.

The dead were identified as Leon Ekberg, 19, Wakefield, and Henry Erwin, 60, and his daughter, Barbara, 5, of Concord.

Ekberg and Miss Myrna Schlines, 18, of Wakefield, were on their way to Sioux City for a party celebrating their engagement.

At a Sioux City hospital, Mrs. Alberta Erwin, 50, was listed as in critical condition, as was Miss Schlines.

Another daughter of the Erwins' suffered minor injuries as did Merle Schlines. Leone Anderson, 16, Wakefield, who was with the Ekberg party, suffered arm and leg injuries.

The Safety Patrol said the head-on crash occurred below the crest of a hill on a gravel county road.

A tractor-truck mishap near Kennard claimed the life of a farmer and a 12-year-old boy was killed by a bus at Paxton. Both accidents happened earlier Tuesday.

The Nebraska road death count soared to 130, compared to 119 at the same time last year—a year when a new record was set.

$1.8 Million Low Bid On NU Center

The apparent low bidder for the general contract of the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education at the University of Nebraska is Parsons Construction Company of Omaha, with a bid of $1,778,429.

Other apparent low bidders Tuesday were: kitchen equipment, Servco Equipment Co., St. Louis, $132,386; mechanical work, Ray Martin Co., Lincoln, $615,839; and electrical work, Modern Electric Company, Omaha, $200,000.

The total of the low bids is $2,726,654.

Funds for the Nebraska Center will be financed by a $1.5 million grant from the Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek, Mich., and a state-wide fund drive which now totals nearly $1.1 million. A $300,000 bond issue also has been authorized by the board of regents for use in construction of the building.

Other bidders were: General—George Cook, Construction Co., Lincoln, $1,780,522; A. Borchman Sons Co., Omaha, $1,284,000; Kinney Construction Co., Lincoln, $1,897,039; Weitz Company, Inc., Des Moines, Ia., $1,906,580; Olson Construction Co., Lincoln, $1,917,204; Korshol Construction Co., Blair, $2,045,543; S. Patti Construction Co., Kansas City, $2,047,576; and Wilson Construction Co., Lincoln, $2,075,845.

Kitchen Equipment—Stainless Equipment Co., Inglewood, Colo., $137,297; Pegler and Co., Lincoln, $144,885; Hockenberg Fixture and Supply Co., Omaha, $145,353; Cook Construction Co., $146,777; and A. Borchman Sons Co., Omaha, $149,000.

Mechanical Work—Reinhardt Bros. Plumbing and Heating, Lincoln, $629,912; Newberg and Bookstrom, Lincoln, $621,586; Nafkin and Co., Lincoln, $664,372; and Conditioned Air Corporation, Des Moines, Ia., $756,400.

30, the State Safety Patrol said.

The driver of the truck was identified as Isadore Nervin of Cedar Falls, Ia. The Patrol said the left front of the semi collided with the right rear of the tractor, flipping the tractor over on Johnson.

Bus Kills Boy

Paxton, Neb. (AP)—Pete Campos, 12, Paxton was killed Tuesday afternoon when struck by an eastbound Greyhound bus on a Paxton street. The bus was driven by Milo J. Dawson, 40, of Cheyenne.

Pete, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Campos, was digging fish worms in a sewer ditch with Carlos Barron, 10.

Pete climbed out of the ditch, and stood on a curbing until a west bound car passed. Then he ran into the street and into the path of the bus, Dawson and passengers on the same side of the bus told officers.

Ike Budget Plea Heard By AMA

... Reasonable Medical Fees Urged

Atlantic City, N.J. (AP) — President Eisenhower Tuesday night told America's doctors they can help fight inflation by charging reasonable fees for medical care.

The President also hammered again at what he called urgent need for a balanced federal budget and a sound dollar lest inflation result in "lost freedoms for the doctor and patient" alike.

Nowhere in a speech to the American Medical Association's annual convention did the President accuse the nation's physicians of charging unreasonable fees. He put it this way:

"The medical profession, as much as any other, has a vital interest in preventing inflation. Certainly it wants to provide its services for a fee within range of what people can reasonably pay."

Eisenhower said further "a master" air defense plan designed in part to end Army-Air Force bickering over anti-aircraft missiles.

The White House and the conferees were unusually tight-lipped after the 80-minute meeting. However, Deputy Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. did say that he did not think the plan would be submitted to Congress Wednesday as originally scheduled.

The plan was demanded by the Senate Armed Services Committee so it could obtain a clear picture of just what the Defense Department planned to do with the Army's Nike-Hercules anti-aircraft missile and the Air Force's rival Bomarc rocket.

Besides concern over the possibility of duplicating weapons. Congress wants to find out whether too much money is being spent on air defenses against bombers. Russia is putting increased emphasis on missiles at the expense of manned planes.

Congress Divided

The House and Senate have split on the missile controversy. The Senate Armed Services Committee voted a slash in funds for the Nike-Hercules. The House Appropriations Committee cut funds for the Air Force Bomarc and the House upheld the action.

It was understood that the master plan may call for cuts in spending for both the Army and Air Force missile but still provide for continued use of both. The Defense Department does not regard them as competing weapons.

The Nike-Hercules has a range of 50 to 100 miles, while the Bomarc has a range of 150 to 400 miles. Both can be equipped with nuclear warheads.

Military planners contend both missiles are needed, along with long-range interceptor planes.

NATO Harmony Badly Impaired

WESTERN LEADERS ANNOYED

By De Gaulle Demands

London (U) — A Congress of Western leaders working for harmony in NATO was thrown into an uproar Tuesday by President de Gaulle's demands for control over any nuclear weapons in France.

The effects of de Gaulle's pronouncement also reached British Prime Minister Macmillan and the Big 4 foreign ministers meeting in Geneva.

Macmillan called in his top defense leaders to discuss the problem.

Take An Hour Out

In Geneva Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville took an hour out from the East-West meetings. They discussed the increasingly delicate relationship between France and other members of the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance (NATO).

De Gaulle's insistence on control of nuclear stockpiles may bring the transfer of 9 squadrons totaling about 250 American fighter-bombers now stationed in France. Presumably they would be shifted to bases in Italy, West Germany and Britain. Those countries allow U.S. nuclear stockpiles without insisting on controlling them.

Some delegates from NATO nations, were aroused by the French policy.

"It makes the Atlantic Alliance a damn sight weaker," said George A. Brown, a Laborite member of the British Parliament and a conference delegate. "It means a hole will be created in the middle of European defense."

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) of the U.S. delegation said he foresaw a "dangerous situation if the atomic club is expanded." He called for careful negotiations on the dispute.

Wife Foresaw Long's Illness 'Months Ago'

New York (UPI) — The wife of Louisiana's Gov. Earl Long said Tuesday she knew her husband's breakdown was coming 8 months ago when he became so obsessed with running for a 4th term that he stopped eating and began to abuse his family and close friends.

"Any day I expected them to call me to tell me he had dropped dead in the street," she said.

Mrs. Long said her husband began to fret over a new home he was building because he was afraid people would think it was too grand.

"He was called in for several conferences with the internal revenue people," she said, "and that worried him too."

"Every little thing began to build up on his mind until it was obvious that he was getting sicker every day."

Long was taken to a hospital in Galveston, Tex., for treatment. His wife predicted he would be discharged a well man in time to run for reelection as governor of Louisiana.

SHOOTS AT PROWLER (HUBBY), WOUNDS BYSTANDER (HERSELF)

A Lincoln woman who thought she was firing at a prowler ended up being shot and wounded with her own gun, police reported.

Police said Mrs. Darlene A. Watson of 2265 Orchard awoke early Tuesday morning and thought she heard a prowler in her home. She grabbed a nearby pistol and fired.

The "prowler" was her husband, Ronald, who had come home from work unexpectedly. He lunged for the gun and it went off again.

This time, police said, the bullet struck Mrs. Watson in the shoulder.

She was treated at a local hospital and then released.

Housing For Elders Group Eyes Plans

Members of the Pioneer Housing Corp. discussed building plans and sites for their planned apartment building for senior citizens at their meeting Tuesday evening.

Although no specific sites were selected for investigation a majority of the members favored a site within walking distance of Lincoln's downtown business area.

Architect Kenneth Clark reported that a one half block area would probably be needed for the proposed 10-story 100-apartment building sought by the non-profit corporation.

Clark also noted some of the requirements which would have to be met to qualify the project for Federal Housing Administration approval to finance it.

W. A. Rosene, retired school administrator and chairman of the Board of Directors, announced that members would be appointed Tuesday to the committees on membership, site selection, publicity, finance and building.

He also announced that the corporation would meet regularly on the second Tuesday of each month.

Rebs Get Aid From Venezuela Anti-Nicaragua Force Said Bolstered

Managua, Nicaragua (U) — The Nicaraguan Army said Tuesday it had information that Venezuelan President Romulo Betancourt sent two plane loads of arms and ammunition to the outnumbered Nicaraguan rebels. Rebels claimed late in the day that a battle is being waged with government forces northeast of Managua.

The Army said it also has reports of new invasion plans aimed at reinforcing the small airborne force that landed 11 days ago.

Gen. Anastasio Somoza, brother of President Luis Somoza, claimed earlier that the rebels had been liquidated in a battle on a hill known as Cerro De La Guna, about 120 miles northeast of Managua.

He said one of the two groups landed by plane from Costa Rica had been surrounded and was apparently out of ammunition after a two-hour battle. He said the rebels were being given a chance to surrender.

Disintegrated

A second planeload of rebels that landed in the Santo Tomas area had disintegrated, Gen Somoza said.

Rebel leaders in San Jose, Costa Rica, denied Gen. Somoza's victory claim, saying that all government thrusts had been repelled.

The Nicaraguan exiles said revolutionary forces killed 18 soldiers, including two officers, in an ambush near Boaco, 50 miles northeast of Managua.

The Rebel radio in Costa Rica said the second rebel force killed 10 soldiers in a skirmish with the National Guard at Lagunas, near Chontales.

The broadcast claimed the rebels captured 16 machine-guns, 5 mortars, 5 rifles, and two radio transmitters.

Strike Halts Publication Of 2 Papers

St. Louis (UPI) — Both St. Louis newspapers were shut down at 12:01 a.m. Wednesday when stereotypers went on strike in a contract dispute.

Hit by the walkout were the Globe-Democrat, a morning paper, and the afternoon Post-Dispatch. Picket lines were set up at midnight and the Globe-Democrat's final edition was not published.

The strike occurred only 10 days after the Globe-Democrat resumed publication following a 14-week strike by members of the St. Louis Newspaper Guild.

The latest strike culminated a dispute between the St. Louis Stereotypers Union No. 8 and management of the Pulitzer Publishing Co., which prints both newspapers.

Science, Language Get Interest Of Students

By Virgil Falloon
Lincoln junior and senior high students are showing increased interest in science and languages.

A report to this effect was made to the Board of Education by a study committee represented by Dr. R. L. Fredstrom, assistant superintendent; Belle Farman, coordinator of senior high curriculum, and Scott Norton, coordinator of junior high curriculum.

A course called "Science in the Age of Space," introduced last semester into the junior high program, captured an enthusiastic response from the pupils, Norton reported.

More schools will have this 8th grade elective next year, he said. Generally, better science laboratories are being developed in the junior high schools.

One Language
At least one language will be offered in all the junior highs, Norton said. He said 402 students have elected to study either Spanish, German, French or Latin for the coming year.

On the senior high level, Miss Farman reported that 1,665 students or 35% of the total enrollment are registered for foreign languages this fall. This compared with 24% during the 1957-58 term.

Language laboratories with electronic equipment will be installed this summer in all 3 senior high schools, she said.

The senior high coordinator also offerings in science and mathematics courses, as well as laboratories, have been improved.

College Chemistry

She reported that a college chemistry course, with University of Nebraska credit, has been added in the curriculum of the 3 high schools. Other college credit offerings include analytical geometry, trigonometry, and advanced language courses.

Fredstrom reported that an individual folder on all students, from kindergarten through high school, is being kept for better coordination throughout the school program.

The committee's progress report was made in connection with the 1958 Nebraska Department of Education's evaluation of the Lincoln school system.

Fredstrom said many of the report recommendations are being developed and adopted, but that others may require further study.

Shy Limey

London (UPI) — The British Army has granted a discharge to 19-year-old Terry Smith of the Coldstream Guards who went AWOL because he was too shy to stand guard at Buckingham Palace.

Smith vanished on the eve of his first tour of duty and did not return until 27 days later. His mother told his commanding officer that Smith could not stand the limelight.

Informed that doctors had recommended the discharge, Mrs. Smith remarked: "The Army really has a heart."

City's Downtown Mall To Be Removed

Wednesday, June 10, 1959 The Lincoln Star 3

By Virgil Falloon
The O Street mall, erected for Lincoln's centennial celebration in early May, will be removed—probably yet this week.

The Lincoln Downtown Development Corp. notified the City Council Tuesday that the group is dropping its plans for temporary mall expansion because of the high cost and time requirements involved.

The Council is asked to rescind its action of last week approving a two-block extension of the mall and its continuation until Aug. 31.

In the wake of the DDC request, the Centennial Committee is expected to take action to remove the mall this week, according to Tom Carroll, Centennial Corp. executive director.

In a letter to the Council, DDC President John Lawlor said the corporation was not aware of two problems when the May 22 request for the mall's extension was made.

First, the cost of the two-block extension plus reconstruction of the present mall from 11th to 13th would be $15,000 and perhaps more.

Second, the time required for the comprehensive study would be six months rather than the originally planned three months.

"For these reasons," the DDC letter said, "we are asking that the Council rescind its action to permit the mall continuation."

280 Students Are Here For All-State Fine Arts Course

A total of 280 high school students registered Tuesday for the University of Nebraska all-state fine arts course which will continue until June 27.

The students, representing 180 towns in Nebraska, are enrolled to study speech, art and music.

According to John Moran, director of the session, 65 students are enrolled in speech, 20 in art and 195 in music.

The girls are being housed in 6 sorority houses and the boys attending the session are staying at the men's dormitory.

A Faculty Recital was presented for the students Tuesday evening with Leon Lishner, Emanuel Wishnow and Donald Lentz performing.

Wednesday evening a group of guest actors will present "The Four Poster" for the high schoolers.

County Group Can't Receive Advice-Beck

A county agricultural society is not entitled to legal advice and representation from the county attorney, the Nebraska Attorney General said in an opinion handed down Tuesday.

The opinion was requested by H. Alan Curtis of Hyannis, attorney for Grant County.

The law provides, however, that counties are authorized to establish and maintain county fairs, and officers of the county fair are clearly "civil officers" and entitled to legal representation of the county attorney, the opinion said.

"Just as clearly, the legislature did not make officials of an agricultural society 'civil officers' of the county, and legal advice must be sought from attorneys in private practice," it concluded.

Liberace Says His Career Shortened

London (P)—Liberace told the British High Court Tuesday a London newspaper cut years from his professional career by implying he was a homosexual.

The wavy-haired TV entertainer, whose full name is Wladziu Valentino Liberace, was testifying on the second day of his libel action against the Daily Mirror and its columnist William Neil Connor, whose pen name is Cassandra.

Defense Attorney Gerald Gardiner asked Liberace why he should interpret a Cassandra piece published in September, 1956, as imputing homosexuality.

"Untold Agonies"

"Ask millions of people," said Liberace leaning forward in witness box. "People in England and all parts of the world where I am dependent on making a livelihood have given it that interpretation. It has caused untold agonies and embarrassment and has made me the subject of ridicule."

"It has cost me many years of my professional career."

Liberace wore a flecked light gray suit, white pleated shirt and gray silk tie. A

Salute To Progress

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

This is not a condemnation of those people who are now opposing a mall in downtown Lincoln. They put forth some worthy objections and are as entitled to their interpretation of circumstances and events as is anyone else. But the purpose of these few words will be to give a pat on the back and congratulations to a few people who have it coming.

These are the people who had the vision to see the possibilities of the mall idea, people such as John Lawlor, Nate Gold, Phil Hardy, John Campbell and a host of other downtown merchants.

While they now suggest a temporary discontinuance of the mall, it is hoped that they persevere in their confidence that the development is an advantageous one for Lincoln. If fault is to be found in their approach to this issue, it would lie in their natural inclination to let their enthusiasm get the best of their sound judgment. And there is no assurance that even this is the case. It must be admitted that a mall would produce problems. It would cut a few parking spaces out of the downtown district, it would necessitate a change in traffic patterns, it would change bus routings, etc. It is also said that the mall would present a fire hazard due to lack of adequate access to the downtown area, that it would be inconvenient to the general public and would be a problem in the wintertime. The last three objections, we believe, are a lot of bunk and should be considered so by the City Council.

If Fire Chief E. Paul Feaster cannot produce a fire protection plan built around a mall that would be as adequate as what we have today, it would be the biggest surprise of the century. Also, the mall would be developed with the thought in mind that fire apparatus might have to enter the area in emergencies.

As to the winter problem, we fail to see any. So the snow would lie knee-deep in the street or on the mall in the wintertime. So what! Snow lies knee-deep during the winter in a lot of places and doesn't bother anyone. As a matter of fact, there are no small number of people who rather like it. Oddly enough, they seem to see something clean and beautiful in it.

The only reason snow is cleaned from O Street now is to facilitate traffic movement. With a mall, there would be no traffic movement and thus no need for removal of the snow. Let it melt in its own natural way and flow down the storm sewers. That doesn't seem very complicated to us. As to public inconvenience, that is a big and significant subject. It is the real crux of this whole issue.

O Street is now considered congested during peak traffic hours. The argument, then, is that to close it would compound the congestion. There is another way of looking at this. Rather than compounding the congestion, it might move the congestion out to the fringes, in this case M, N, P and Q Streets.

This would free the heart of the downtown business area for the development of a much better retail center. Retailing is nothing but selling, and selling involves a number of important considerations, not the least of which is the creation of the right frame of mind within the prospective buyer. You don't just throw something in a buyer's face with a take-it-or-leave-it attitude.

Packaging, displaying, sales personality and market environment are all essential parts of retailing, and the mall could make the element of environment an outstanding one. Yes, it would take away perhaps 65 parking spaces. But remember this, parking cars is a profitable business. When the demand for parking reaches the stage where off-street facilities would make a profit, there will be a willing and eager investor for the venture. Until that stage is reached, there is no real parking problem. Instead, there is a vivid imagination and a lot of spoiled drivers—drivers who, despite the fact that we are a city of 130,000 population, still want to park in front of the door to the store they wish to do business with.

Rather than walk two blocks after parking their cars, they would rather continue the nonsense of what amounts to curb service, even if it means the ultimate destruction of the city's major tax base. A new traffic system would be needed with a mall and it might be better to have it worked out in advance. But here's to progress as seen in the vision of a few people who caught the magic of the mall and were imaginative and resourceful enough to push ahead with it and confident enough in their city to believe that no problem was too big for Lincoln to whip if the effort was worth the chips.

As to the winter problem, we fail to see any. So the snow would lie knee-deep in the street or on the mall in the wintertime. So what! Snow lies knee-deep during the winter in a lot of places and doesn't bother anyone. As a matter of fact, there are no small number of people who rather like it. Oddly enough, they seem to see something clean and beautiful in it.

The only reason snow is cleaned from O Street now is to facilitate traffic movement. With a mall, there would be no traffic movement and thus no need for removal

Needed Remedy

A voice vote in the legislature advanced a bill—LB656—from general file allowing city councilmen and school board members to contract goods and services to their respective subdivisions to the extent of $2,000.

Presently such public officials cannot sell to the boards of which they are members in excess of $500.

The new measure is a provident piece of legislation fostered by Senators John R. Cooper, Humbolt, and Kenneth L. Bowen, Red Cloud. It was reassuring to witness the legislature's favorable action on it.

The present law has generated a dilemma in Nebraska communities, especially the smaller cities. While its aim is to defend the public against political favor its actual result has been to deprive the communities of a substantial field of public servants of a high order.

The present law created no serious problems for a time principally for lack of enforcement, but recent court actions perforce evoked penalties and embarrassments in instances where individual officials paid severe penalties where accommodation business maintained the spirit of the law but violated the letter. The reaction has been a general withdrawal of far too many community leaders from community service. The effect has been both detrimental to community government and to economical administration.

Seeing Their Responsibility

You can generally depend upon the annual meeting of the American Medical Association to discuss the subject of medical costs and this year's meeting at Atlantic City is no exception. The new AMA president, Dr. Louis M. Orr of Orlando, Fla., emphasized the responsibility of the medical profession itself to keep medical costs within the reach of all people so that voluntary health insurance programs can have some meaning.

In other words, he seemed to be saying that voluntary health insurance programs must be worthwhile to people. They must pay enough of the medical bill to make it count and be available at a reasonable figure. Unless this happens, he said, the politicians will take over.

Dr. Orr is absolutely right in his approach to the problem and it is a subject of vital interest to every person in the nation. But there is something else his group might be interested in but which has pretty well been ignored in the past.

The medical profession does extremely little to attempt to educate the American public on the cost of administration of medicine and medical services. The average person has no idea of what has gone into the hour or so he may take of a doctor's time. He looks at the $50 or $100 bill he gets and thinks the doctor works at a net wage rate of $50 or $100 an hour. The medical profession could do a lot to acquaint the public with the costs of its program. In short, it should justify its charges and thereby gain the public to its side in its battle against federal interference in this field.

Real Issue Is Inflation

When history is finally written the current Congress will be memorable for its endeavors to meet and solve such a diversity of deep national problems. These have been both domestic and international, ranging from the brink of the last of all civilization-destroying wars, to a definition of the correct place in the American order of an organized labor element whose most radical leaders are bent on writing their own law any way they want it.

But no less than all these the Congress must now, at the direction of the President, decide whether it will face up to inflation or duck the issue. Seemingly the administration already has rolled the punch.

The directive comes to Congress under the title of the federal bond interest rate. The Congress is being asked to raise the limit of the national debt and also to raise the ceiling on the amount of interest the federal treasury may pay to investors in its funding and refunding operations.

The President put it too simply when he pointed out that the treasury can no longer compete in the money market for its long range funding operations. People will not buy sufficiently unless the interest rate is made more attractive.

If the Congress accepts that oversimplification and faces the problem as one only of interest rates it will have performed a disservice to the nation.

The real issue is inflation. There is no lack of confidence in the government, nor evidence of failure in the general economy. But there is the concern that money invested with the government today may be, when repaid 15 or 20 years hence, worth only a fraction of its present value. It is not the rate of interest that is concerning the investor as much as it is the integrity of the capital.

The Congress will have to face the fact that breaking the interest rate line will not reassure the investor in respect to his capital, nor will it for long sustain the federal treasury's position in the competitive money market. Rather it will pitch off a money bidding cycle that will oppress not only the management of the public debt, but private borrowers and burdened taxpayers.

The administration is paying lip service to the cause of stable money. And it is seeing some of its bad money policies come home to roost. There is no remedy in soaring interest rates. Rather the hard therapy for inflation is a balanced budget, a stiffer and more equitable tax structure, austere governmental economy and even wage and price controls, if no other medicine will work.

The Congress has its difficult work cut out for it.

Bombing Memory Ruling Britain

LONDON — The atomic bomb today hangs over Britain. You can feel it in talks with British statesmen. You can sense it in reports from Geneva, where the foreign ministers are conferring. It is very much behind Selwyn Lloyd's determination to compromise with Andrei Gromyko, Russian foreign minister. You can detect it in the speeches of British labor leaders, or when 75,000 people crowded Trafalgar Square as they did on Easter to urge abolition of the bomb, and again when stodgy General and Municipal Workers Union members voted as they did last week that "the next labor government should take a unilateral action in ceasing the manufacture of nuclear weapons and prohibiting the use of all such weapons on British territory." This would ban U.S. H-bombers from British bases.

You can also understand it when you see the gaping holes in blocks of the city of London — holes still unrepaired from the awful terror of Hitler's buzz bombs and the V-2s which almost knocked out England before the end of World War II.

I could, when I dined with Earl Attlee at the House of Lords last night. Near by, another bomb—an old-fashioned one—had come through the House of Lords chamber in Hitler's war. The damage was slight, the chamber is now reconstructed. Also near by, another of Hitler's bombs had completely wrecked the House of Commons. That historic chamber has now been faithfully and carefully reconstructed but, if there had been an atomic bomb then, there would have been nothing left to reconstruct.

Clement Attlee, onetime labor prime minister, now an earl, is more stooped than in those days when he came to San Francisco toward the end of World War II to help organize the United Nations. Now 79, Attlee looks as if the burdens of Britain have dragged heavily on his shoulders.

It has been 14 years since Attlee sat with President Truman and Premier Stalin at Potsdam to assent to the first atomic bomb's being dropped on Hiroshima. And it has been 10 years since he rushed to Washington during the Korean war to urge Truman not to drop a nuclear bomb on North Korea.

The bomb, during these years, has been very much on Attlee's mind, as it was tonight. "We are at the mercy of the scientists," he said. "Excellent people — these scientists. But they are always inventing something and then leaving it to the politicians to bail them out."

"Science has made what seemed a distant dream come nearer," Attlee continued. "I have seen many things come to pass in the last 50 years that had seemed impossible. Peace, thanks to the terrors of science, may now be possible."

Democrats Settle Ticket Controversy

WASHINGTON — The great wrangle over the speaker seats at the Democratic national convention is subsiding in terms about as follows:

The host committee of Los Angeles will receive 1,500 tickets to take care of the local angels who guaranteed the convention expenses, the local political dignitaries, including the Republican mayor, and assorted other luminaries of the vicinity.

The Democratic state committee can count on a thousand tickets to distribute among the party's big wheels. It is said to have plans to raise money by selling choice pairs of this selection for $1,000 each. The host governor, Pat Brown, a favorite-son candidate who takes his chances with increasing seriousness, gets a relatively small personal allowance as well.

The national committee gets a block of 750 well-placed seats to take care of its 750 club, an elite group so loyal and/or well-healed that its members are putting off $1,000 apiece to pay off the party's old deficits so the 1960 campaign can get underway. The committee will also get the remainder of about 1,000 for distribution among the other 49 state organizations.

This arrangement was described in detail by National Committeeman Paul Ziffman in a private conference last week and with congressional Democrats. When he concluded his explanations, even his severest critics among them said they were satisfied.

Democrats here and in California had been aroused by the demand of oilman Edwin Pauley of Los Angeles for 5,000 tickets to take care of the city's host committee, which he headed. Nobody denied that Pauley had raised money in amounts sufficient to persuade the national committee that its pioneer Los Angeles convention would be a solvent one. It was a potent argument for the always-broke Democrats.

But the politicians did not want to put any one man in a spot where he might be tempted to pack the galleries. In addition, Pauley, though personally loyal to former President Truman, is a highly controversial party figure, especially in Southern California.

"Nobody's reading Pauley out of the party," Ziffman was told at the conference here. "But he can't run everything or we'll have the worst fight on our hands we've ever had. Just let him work his passage back."

All convention ticket situations are potentially explosive. The Los Angeles one is especially so because it is widely expected that the convention delegates will really decide the outcome for a change.

Senate's Good Record Not Enough

WASHINGTON — If these were normal times—the mid-twenties of the Coolidge era, let us say—the record being set by the 86th Congress would be not only good but brilliant.

Thus far the Senate has voted statehood for Hawaii, a $2.7 billion housing program, a four-year $465,000,000 airport construction bill, a labor-management measure opposed by both unions and organized business which is some indication that it may be on target. Other measures cover the temporary extension of unemployment compensation, railroad retirement and a revised formula for taxing insurance companies. That, as Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson says with heat, is a pretty fine record with the Congress having at least two more months to run.

But the times are not normal and the problems that the legislators are called on to solve look as massive and as indestructible as Pike's Peak. This is the source of the frustration that boils up in Johnson at the goading of Representative Charles Halleck, the minority leader in the House, who is holding the whistle down on the theme of a "do-nothing" Congress.

To begin with there is the vast mountain of agricultural surpluses—$10 billion worth—that is a constant reminder of the insanity of the so-called farm program. The cost merely of storing this gigantic object lesson in how not to manage an economy is rapidly approaching $1 billion a year. Public opinion, and not alone organized farm opinion, is becoming increasingly aware of the folly of what has gone on so long.

If the session ends without a major effort at solution, and failure to reach even a temporary accommodation on the surplus wheat problem is a bad augury, the voters will take it out on those who happen to be in office. Next year is a presidential year and it is too much to expect anything from Congress with politics to the fore. This would mean that for two years the surplus mountain would grow larger and more menacing.

The current word is that because of the opposition of both labor and management the House seems unlikely to pass a labor bill. Here, too, public opinion is aroused as the uncontrollable power of Jimmy Hoffa strikes deeper into the fabric of American life. Without curb or check or hindrance of any kind or apparently any self-restraint he is out to set himself above law and order.

And now with a message from the White House calling for removal of the ceiling on the interest rate the government can pay on its long-term bonds the Congress is confronted with still another horrendous decision involving the well-being of the country and each and every citizen. President Eisenhower and his secretary of the Treasury, Robert Anderson, say that they cannot sell the bonds if the rate is kept at 4½ percent unless they resort to means they believe would be dangerously inflationary.

Yet a number of senators, led by Albert Gore of Tennessee, say they will fight the change to the death. They insist that if the ceiling is removed the rate on government bonds will go to 6 percent before the end of the Eisenhower administration, which means that the going bank rate will be 8 or 9 percent, and this will strangle the housing industry. Last February when Anderson was protesting that the administration meant to try to avoid asking for a higher rate Gore was predicting the kind of showdown that now seems about to take place.

Senator Johnson's sense of frustration is not surprising. To ask him to get unmythical even in his own party on the terms of an over-all farm bill is like asking him to square the circle and reconcile the hopelessly irreconcilable.

That is the aspect these overwhelming problems—inflation, farm production, labor's power — seem to wear. Certainly, as Johnson says, the answer is not the cry of a "do-nothing" Congress.

The other side of that coin is a "do-nothing" President. This is likely to be the challenge the Democrats will take to the hustings next year. To the average citizen a do-nothing Congress and a do-nothing President may seem to add up to a do-nothing government and that, in times so plainly out of joint, will not be tolerated for long. In frustration the voter, too, has a point of no return, and it could be reached next year.

Advertising Us

Lincoln, Neb.

Nebraska seems asleep to its most important interests in billboard advertising along its interstate highway.

We are less progressive in the matter than was Congress. In the last session a really notable battle was fought to regulate outdoor advertising along this great highway. A combination of the forces of women's clubs, garden clubs, and the American Automobile Association finally made it possible for the states to regulate billboard advertising for which the federal government pays the bill. Now our Legislature seems in danger of neglecting the whole business. If it fails to follow up the permissive legislation of Congress, we may look to see dangerous and unsightly advertising cluttering up every mile along this highway across Nebraska.

Citizens who are interested should implore their senators to give it favorable consideration. Why did the American Automobile Association throw its great influence behind regulation? Because the thousands of members of this organization prefer to drive over roads unmarred by gaudy roadside billboards. When the members of this great organization pass over Nebraska, they hope to see the unspoiled beauty of the state rather than billboards. Nebraska has the opportunity without cost to itself of insuring the roadside beauty of our chief highway if it will only seize the opportunity that Congress provided for us in this progressive legislation. We can make our interstate highway a thing of beauty from the Missouri River to Colorado and Wyoming. The gain in tourist business will doubtless be substantial and the citizens of our state will enjoy the added beauty and restfulness without extra cost to our taxpayers. If we fail to do it, we advertise Nebraska as a state that lags behind the good taste and progressiveness of the rest of the country.

I fail to see where the take from the games would more than half cover the costs of office equipment, uniforms, stationery, mileage, cars, top officers' salaries. Just another burden upon the over-taxed. Let them play on, but woe betide them if they allow things to run afoul of existing laws.

I have paid taxes and voted in Lincoln for many years. My heart and soul are in the once fine city. When our community lets teenagers infringe on the rights of all the people, it is time that action was taken.

This mall is a disgrace. It is dirty, takes up parking places, and is depriving the working people of decent bus service. The more than $7,000 they are to spend for a couple of months of display could be put to better use. There are still tree-trimming and spraying that are not finished, railroad crossings are bad, and there are big holes in the pavement on O Street.

Where is the wheel tax money going — for malls and making O Street's federal highway into a city park? All I ever see are people sitting there, smoking and feeding pigeons.

GOP Agrees To Aid Dixie Demos On House States' Rights Bill

Washington (UPI)—Republicans agreed in a surprise move to help southern Democrats push through the House a states' rights bill strongly opposed by the Justice Department.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va.), is designed to prevent federal legislation from overturning state laws on the same subject. It would apply to all existing and future legislation.

The House Republican Policy Committee endorsed the measure and urged all members to vote for it when it comes up on the House floor for action later this week.

The House Judiciary Committee approved the measure by a 17-15 vote last week despite complaints from Attorney General William P. Rogers that it would lead to endless confusion and litigation.

Court Slap

The bill also is viewed as a slap at the Supreme Court which only Monday clarified one of the decisions which prompted the drive for the legislation. The court's action was not expected to help critics in their fight against the bill, however.

The stand taken by the GOP Policy Committee was viewed in some quarters as a move by GOP leaders to solidify the bipartisan coalition of southern Democrats and Republicans in the House.

The legislation passed the House last year but died in the Senate where the opposition also is considered stronger again this session.

Jeopardized

In endorsing the measure, the House GOP Policy Committee adopted a resolution stating that "historic legislative powers" of the states are jeopardized by federal preemption as a result of recent court rulings.

Without clear and definite lines, the resolution said, there will be a "no man's land of uncertainty" between areas of authority exercised by the federal government and those reserved to the states.

The policy group endorsed Smith's bill as a proper way to provide the courts with "a clear guide or rule of construction... in their interpretation of the intended effect of acts of Congress on state laws."

Foes of the measure contend it would lead to endless litigation and therefore could accurately be described as "the lawyer's full employment bill of 1959."

Ex-Airman Gets $5,000 Damages

A U.S. District Court jury awarded $5,000 damages to William W. Ellenburger, a former Lincoln Air Force Base airman, in connection with a car-truck collision Dec. 20, 1955, about 2 miles west of Emerald on U.S. 6.

The jury verdict was against Eugene and Clarence Johnson, doing business as Johnson Bros., at Holdrege.

Two Lincoln women, riding in Ellenburger's car, were killed in the accident. Ellenburger charged that the Johnson Bros. truck, attempting to pass, forced his car into the Middle Creek Bridge.

Johnson Bros. claimed $18,437 for loss of cattle and damage to the truck the crash in a suit brought against Ellenburger.

Ellenburger, a resident of Florida, counter-claimed $52,500 damages for injuries and medical expense.

The Johnson truck was driven by Ross Moye of Holdrege.

FBI Nabs 6 For Looting Bank Accounts Of Fun-Seeking Chicago Visitors

Chicago (UPI) — The FBI revealed the arrest of 6 men on charges of luring fun-seeking Chicago visitors to "bustout joints" and looting their bank accounts.

The ring employed the services of boozey "B-girls" (short for bar girls), 190-proof highballs, and two of the most accomplished pickpockets in the nation, FBI agents said.

Richard Auerbach, chief FBI agent in Chicago, said the ring made $250,000 in a single year by persuading gentlemen on the town to scrawl their names on blank checks.

Boosted

The conspirators then boosted the amounts on the checks and cashed them at business establishments owned by ring members, Auerbach said. In most cases, the victims honored the checks rather than let their wives know what they had

Fuller, Richer Life From 4-H Work-Shaffer

Four-H club work helps build a "fuller and richer" life for youth of today, a national 4-H official told some 300 youths Tuesday at the 43rd annual Nebraska 4-H Club Week opened on the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture campus.

Elwood Shaffer of Chicago, Ill., editor of the National 4-H News, explained the work carried out by the Cooperative Extension Service, the National 4-H Club Foundation and the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work.

Work Together

"These 3 groups work closely together to carry out the goals of your club work," Shaffer said.

Government at local, state and national levels cooperate by providing funds, planning and leadership, he said.

He said the National 4-H Foundation carries out programs that can best be financed and arranged outside of government. Programs include a fund-raising group called the 4-H Builders' Council, the International Farm Youth Exchange program, the National 4-H Center at Washington, D. C. and the human relations program.

Other Foundation activities include an experimental discussion project for rural young adults and a 3-year citizenship improvement study.

Awards Program

The National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work provides an awards program, he explained. These awards include national scholarships, state trips to the 4-H Club Congress in Chicago and pins and medals.

"Awards are not ends in themselves," Shaffer said, "but are guide posts along the way towards the overall 4-H goal of providing service."

Virginia's Governor Decries Abolition Of Public Education

Wednesday, June 10, 1959 The Lincoln Star 7

Front Royal, Va. (UPI)—Gov. J. Lindsay Almond, once the South's chief crys- tianizer, spoke out strongly Tuesday night against abandonment of pub- lic schools.

Almond, addressing the 97 graduates of a private school group which served as the a segregated basis becomes most precarious," he said.

Poor Remedy

The governor's speech, his strongest since last fall when 9 Virginia schools were closed, made it clear he con- sidered school closures an un- realistic, ineffective and tra- gic way to meet the inte- gration crisis.

Almond urged Virginians to give up "wishful thinking" that integration could be avoided or the Supreme Court's desegregation ruling reversed.

"The only sure prevention of any integration anywhere in Virginia is the total aboli- tion of every public school everywhere in Virginia," he said. " . . . I tell you now that we cannot secede from the Union; we cannot over- throw the federal govern- ment, and we cannot reverse a final decree of a federal court."

Endorsed

Washington (AP)—Despite administration opposition, the House Republican Policy Committee endorsed a "states rights" bill aimed at certain Supreme Court decisions.

The bill, scheduled for House action perhaps next week, declares that no act of Congress should supersede a state law unless Congress specifically declared its in- tention of so doing or unless the state and federal statutes were clearly in conflict.

'Reasonable' Bill

Washington (UPI)— Sen- ate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson predicted that the Senate will approve a "rea- sonable" civil rights bill and at least a dozen other key measures before Congress quits for the summer.

Pier Angeli Says She And Damone Have Reconciled

London (UPI)—Italian film actress Pier Angeli an- nounced Tuesday that she and her former husband, singer Vic Damone, had agreed on a "complete re- conciliation" for the sake of their 3-year-old boy, Perry.

Miss Angeli had stirred a storm by taking young Perry from Hollywood several months ago after her divorce from Damone became final. Damone had made efforts to seek her arrest on grounds that she violated a court or- der in spiriting the child out- side the United States.

Damone had flown to Lon- don Sunday night to see his son and to try to smooth things over with his ex-wife.

"There is a complete re- conciliation," she said at Pinewood Studios where she is making a film. "Vic and I have talked it over for the past two days and we have gone into all the problems which separated us very thor- oughly."

Miss Angeli said that she and Damone "think we will be able to work something out." She did not elaborate on their future plans.

Nixon Readies Trip To Coast

Washington (UPI)— Vice President Richard M. Nixon will leave Thursday on a weekend trip that will take him from New York to Cali- fornia.

Nixon and his family will fly to New York Thursday for U.S. Fleet ceremonies. Nixon then will fly by jet to San Francisco for an evening speech.

He will fly to Virginia City, Nev., Friday for an appear- ance and then to Los Angeles Friday night.

Saturday, Nixon will take part in commencement exer- cises at his alma mater, Whit- tier College, Whittier, Calif. He will return to Washing- ton Monday night.

Marshal Zhukov 'Writing, Fishing'

Moscow (AP)—Marshal Rod- ion Malinovsky said Tuesday his predecessor as Soviet de- fense minister, Georgi Zhu- kov, is spending his retire- ment writing memoirs and fishing for pike in the Mos- cow River.

"Zhukov was not such a good fisherman when he be- gan," Malinovsky said, "but he has improved."

A popular World War II hero, Zhukov was ousted from his government post in 1957. His growing influence in party circles was regarded as a threat to Khrushchev's position.

Don't miss it. News of friends on vaca- tion, marriages, engagements, parties, PTA notes and club meetings makes good reading in The Sunday Journal and Star.

ELECTION ORDERED
Houston, Tex. (AP)— The board of the nation's largest segregated school system ordered an election to determine whether Hous- ton's schools shall integrate.

The plan met instant opposition from the board's only Negro member, Mrs. Charles White. The vote was 4-1 with only Mrs. White dissenting.

Wertz Gets One-Year Sentence

William T. Wertz of 4125 High, convicted May 15 of motor vehicle homicide, was sentenced Tuesday to one year in the Men's Reforma- tory.

Lancaster District Judge Paul White, who had presided at the trials of both Wertz and John E. Olney, 16, of 1301 Piedmont, pronounced sen- tence. Wertz was taken to the Reformatory Tuesday after- noon to begin the sentence.

Wertz, 19, and Olney both were convicted in separate trials of motor vehicle homi- cide in the death last Oct. 6 of Constance Lane, 17-year- old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lane of 2252 Smith.

'Drag Race'

Miss Lane was a passenger in Olney's car when it and another car driven by Wertz overturned on a dirt road south of Lincoln after what the state has claimed was a "drag race" between the two cars.

Olney was sentenced to a one to two year Reformatory term and fined $500 for his part in the affair, but he has appealed the conviction to the State Supreme Court. He is now free on appeal bond.

The driving privileges of both youths were also sus- pended for one year from the time they are released from prison.

Judge White said Tuesday in sentencing Wertz that the trial evidence indicated Wertz and Olney were driving from 90 to 100 m.p.h. when their cars left the State 2 cutoff south of Lincoln and rolled over.

July Wedding Planned

MISS BARBARA JUNE TURNER

Of much more than casual interest this morning is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. George Herrick Turner of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Barbara June, to James Burr Osbourn of Denver, son of Cleon S. Osbourn of Manhattan, N.Y., and the late Mrs. Osbourn. The wedding is planned for July 1, and the ceremony will be solemnized at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon at the Mountain View Presbyterian Church in Denver. Miss Turner is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Delta Gamma sorority. Mr. Osbourn was graduated from Yale University, and now is a commercial loans officer at the Central Bank and Trust Co., in Denver.

The week-long meeting will have as its theme, "The College Woman: Individual and Citizen," and featured speakers of university presidents, educators and authors will be headlined by a former First Lady, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

Among those participating in a series of special interest discussions will be Mrs. Leonard Campbell, superintendent of Madison County, Neb., public schools and past state AAUW president; Miss Lucile Ledwith, Lincoln, state board member and past president of the Lincoln branch; and Mrs. L. L. Hilliard, Scottsbluff, past state

Club Luncheon

Mrs. John Kleckner will be hostess at her home on Wednesday afternoon to the members of the Double Six Club. Mrs. Gertrude Babcock of Long Beach, Calif., a former member of the club who is visiting in Lincoln, will be assisting hostess for the 1 o'clock luncheon.

Party Honors Elizabeth Olson

Elizabeth Olson, who leaves soon with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. James Olson, to spend several months in Italy, will find interesting things to see and do, but we doubt if she will have more fun than she had Tuesday afternoon when Gaynelle Groth was hostess at a farewell courtesy. The affair, which was a surprise for the young Miss Olson, started at 1 o'clock when the group met at the home of the hostess. From there the group went to Hillcrest Country Club for swimming and food. In the picture, left to right, are Nancy Heizenrader, Susan Cunningham, Jane Kreissman, Kay Kramer, Gaynelle Groth and Anne

AROUND THE TOWN Had Morning Wedding

The morning mail brought a clipping from the Daily Oklahoman, in Oklahoma City, which we believe will be of interest to numerous Lincoln residents — The story has to do with the announcement of the forthcoming marriage of Mrs. Teddy Dukeminier of Oklahoma City, to John Cronley, formerly of Lincoln and now sports editor of the Oklahoman. The ceremony will take place on June 20 at the home of Mr. Cronley's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Shiffer in Alvo.

The bride, the daughter of Mrs. W. W. Sugg of Wellington, Tex., is president of the Oklahoma City Tennis Association; is a member of the Big Sisters organization; Jefferson-Bryan Club, Oklahoma Hospitality Club, Epsilon Sigma Alpha, business girls' sorority, and was named Miss Oklahoma in 1957.

There is news of one of Lincoln's June brides this morning, also. Miss Suzanne Swingle, whose marriage to Veldon Lewis will be solemnized on Friday afternoon, June 12, is announcing the bridal attendants this morning.

The bride-elect has chosen her sister, Mrs. Wayne F. Morrison of Denver as her matron of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Sue Lewis of Alexandria, Va., and Miss Maureen Lindsay of Grand Island.

Charles James Bunz of Omaha will serve Mr. Lewis as best man, and the corps of ushers will include Richard A. McMullen of Stella; Wayne F. Morrison of Denver; Charles W. Swingle Jr., and Cecil L. Walker.

On Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Swingle will preside at dinner at Hotel Cornhusker in pre-nuptial courtesy to their daughter and Mr. Lewis. The guest list will include members of the families and the bridal party.

Hear that next Wednesday (June 17) will bring a guest to Lincoln. She is Mrs. William Bedwell of Biloxi, Miss., the former Linda Buthman, Kappa Kappa Gamma at Nebraska. Mrs. Bedwell is spending the early part of the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Buthman in Falls City, and during her brief stay in Lincoln will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gates Minnick.

A communique from the Denver Talcum Powder set this morning tells us that William Dean Douglass, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Dean Douglass Jr., arrived on Wednesday, June 3. Mrs. Douglass is the former Kay Curran, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Curran of Sleepy Eye, Minn. The young Mr. Douglass has a sister Kelly, and his paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Douglass of Lincoln.

And mention of Mr. and Mrs. Douglass reminds us that they are taking off next week for Ft. Worth, Tex., where they will be the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Lt. and Mrs. Robert Kelley (Ann Douglass). From Texas Mr. and Mrs. Douglass will go to Denver to extend their personal greetings to their new grandson.

MRS. ALOYSIUS J. HARRE

The wedding of Miss Loretta Murphy, daughter of Mrs. D. L. Murphy of Friend, and Aloysius John Harre, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Harre of Exeter, took place on Saturday morning, June 6, at St. Joseph's Church in Friend.

Lincoln, and the ushers were Joseph Murphy, Denver, Colo., Eugene Harre, Dow City, Ia., Frank Harre and Jerome Harre, Exeter. The bride appeared in a gown of white embroidered tulle over taffeta. The fitted bodice was fashioned with long sleeves and a squared neckline, edged with embroidered scallops, and the scallop motif bordered the deep tiers of ruffled tulle which formed the wide skirt. Her illusion veil was held by a pillbox cap of tulle and pearls, and she carried pink roses. The couple will reside in Lincoln.

Dear Abby . . .

"Seek, And Ye Shall Find" Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 28 and was recently married. I work in an office and married my boss. Now he doesn't want me to work any more. We have no children. I don't care for cards and I'm no good at sports. My housework is done in two hours. I am healthy, ambitious and bored stiff. How can I lead a more useful life?

DEAR BORED: There are institutions for the aged, retarded children, the blind and veterans. There are young mothers who never see the bottom of the ironing basket and old folks who need help in tending their homes. Church groups, youth groups and Red Cross! If you want to be happy—do something for somebody who can't do for himself.

DEAR ABBY: What happens to a 21-year-old girl who dreams of kissing her boyfriend every night, but when he asks her to kiss him, she refuses.

DIANE: NOTHING.

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who needs help. She is good looking and smart and very mixed up. (Three broken marriages at the age of 27!) She works around men and gets money from them to pay her psychiatrist. She has no morals whatsoever but there is something admirable about her. How can I convince her that she is doing wrong?

A FRIEND: If your friend is seeing a psychiatrist, the last thing in the world she needs is more advice. When one is trying to regain his emotional stability through professional help, good friends do not interfere.

DEAR ABBY: Every time I ask my in-laws over for a meal they come walking in with a big box of food as if they think I don't have a crumb to eat in my house. Last time it was terrible. I invited my in-laws, grandma and uncle for lunch. I had my lunch all planned and here they come with weiners and buns and pickles and potato salad and ice cream. I didn't know whether to serve their lunch or my own. What does a person do in a case like that, Abby? Should I tell them it is rude to bring their own food when they are invited for a meal?

HURT: Your in-laws were attempting to be extremely helpful. Next time, serve your own lunch and tell them nicely that when you invited them as guests you'd rather they didn't bring the food.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

RIGHT OF U.S. TO DENY PASSPORTS UPHELD

... Worthy Rebuffed In Appeals Court

Washington (AP)—The State Department's authority to deny passports for Americans to travel to areas it regards as potential trouble spots, such as Red China, was upheld Tuesday by the U.S. Court of Appeals.

"In foreign affairs, especially in the intimate posture of today's world of jets, radio and atomic power, an individual's uninhibited yen to go and to inquire may be circumscribed," said an opinion by Chief Judge E. Barrett Prettyman.

"A blustering inquisitor avowing his own freedom to go and do as he pleases can throw the world international neighborhood into turmoil."

The unanimous decision of the 3-man court rejected an attempt by William Worthy Jr., of Baltimore, to get his passport renewed. It upheld a decision by the U.S. District Court last Oct. 2.

The case is expected to be appealed to the Supreme Court.

As a reporter for the Columbia Broadcasting System, the New York Post and the Baltimore Afro-American, Worthy visited Red China for 41 days in 1956 and on his way home spent two days in Hungary in 1957. His passport was stamped "Not Valid" for travel to either country.

When Worthy's passport came up for renewal in March, 1957, the State Department turned him down.

POLARIS MISSILE SUB LAUNCHED

By Elton C. Fay

Aboard Submarine George Washington, Groton, Conn. (AP)—This first ballistic missile submarine is afloat, riding easily on a river into which she was just launched Tuesday.

Downstream is the mouth of the Thames River and the hazy sea where a year from now the Navy expects that she will begin roaming with her load of hydrogen-tipped missiles.

Behind her is 18 months of high speed construction that made the George Washington almost three-fourths complete as she went into the water. Hundreds of workers who built her at the yards of the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp. watched with pleased grins as this mighty submersible slid toward her element.

The Navy hopes the George Washington, called by President Eisenhower a "revolutionary" submarine, is the first of its kind in the world and that the coming buildup of the whole Polaris submarine fleet will keep the United States ahead of tight-pressing Russia.

For Cmdr. James B. Osborn, skipper of the "GW", the 7 other officers and 78 men of the first crew, the launching was silk-smooth and auspicious.

FREE CHINA BUYS FARM SURPLUSES

Taipei, Formosa (AP)—An agreement for purchase of American surplus farm products was signed in Taipei between the United States and Nationalist China.

It called for the import into Formosa of $11,900,000 (U.S.) of American farm products, mostly wheat, plus an estimated 50% of the ocean transportation costs of 1½ million dollars.

The agreement, the 3rd of its kind, was signed by U.S. Ambassador Everett F. Drumright and Nationalist China's foreign minister, Huang Shao-ku.

Democrats Fire Back

Senate Rows Over Higher Interest Rate

Washington (AP)—A row broke out in the Senate Tuesday over President Eisenhower's proposal to boost interest rates on government bonds and to raise the federal debt ceiling.

Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn.) touched it off by accusing the Democrats of pushing budget-breaking spending programs.

"The deplorable condition of our fiscal affairs is the responsibility of the Congress," Bush said.

Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas quickly retorted. He said the Republicans don't have enough members left in the Senate, since the last election, "to wad a shotgun" and yet want to advise the Democrats what should be done.

He said Congress will study the President's proposals and do what is best for the country "regardless of the political bunk put out by the Republican National Committee."

Labor Trouble At Goodyear Appears Over

Grievances which caused more than 150 workers at the Lincoln Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. to stage a 3-hour walkout late Tuesday have apparently been settled.

Union officials said that the grievances have been "tentatively settled," and said that final drafting of the new agreement and approval of the International United Workers Union and Local 286 would probably take over a week.

Goodyear Plant Manager Daniel R. Remigio said that the dispute appears to be "all over."

Goodyear workers staged the walkout Tuesday over disagreements about working conditions, vacation relief, seniority, bidding procedure, charging of overtime hours, representation of stewards and grievances.

Fifth Amendment Flaunted In Lake County Vice Hearing

Hoodlum Chortles As Probers Quiz

Washington (UPI) — Chicago hoodlum Sam (Mooney) Giancana just laughed Tuesday when the Senate Rackets Committee linked him with a pinball, pizza and prostitution ring in Lake County, Ind.

Each time the committee asked the reason for his mirth, the reputed No. 2 leader of the Chicago crime syndicate invoked the protection of the 5th Amendment against possible self incrimination.

He refused to tell the committee anything about charges that the Chicago mob branched out into neighboring Lake County with the assistance of Deputy County Prosecutor Metro Holovachka.

Cool Brothel

John Formosa, alleged operator of an air-conditioned house of prostitution in Gary, Ind., also sat silent when asked how much money he gave Holovachka. The same was true of Frank Zizzo, who ran a pizza pie business as a front for a syndicate bookie operation.

Investigator Richard Sinclair said Formosa once bragged to him that his Gary bawdy house, the M. and J. Motel, was nationally known. Formosa said it took in more than $114,000 in three years, according to Sinclair.

Holovachka has denied taking payments from racketeers but refused to give the committee an accounting for $327,724 in cash said to have passed through his hands during his 8 years as a public official.

The committee had been

Centennial Workers To Be Honored

More than 150 persons are expected to attend a noon luncheon Wednesday sponsored by the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce to honor the volunteers whose efforts "made possible the success of the Lincoln Centennial Celebration."

John Curtiss, who introduced the idea of a Centennial celebration during his tenure as Chamber President in 1954, will be the main speaker.

According to Chamber President Robert A. Dobson, the luncheon will provide an opportunity for businessmen to recognize the volunteers for their long hours of work and show them that their efforts were indeed appreciated.

"It would be an impossible task to recognize the thousands who participated in some phase of the week-long Centennial, so we are taking this means of honoring those who carried the main burden of the planning and organizing which made the Centennial not only a great success but also a truly city-wide effort," he added.

the travel-lovin' Chevrolet

Nothing else but a dyed-in-the-wool sports car like the Corvette can take a turn with the solid assurance of this sweet-handling Chevrolet. Drive it—and feel the extra smoothness and stability born of Chevy's better balance and supple full coil springs.

It's easy to see where Chevrolet gets its road sense. With big coil springs at every wheel, a firm, wider stance and all of its pounds distributed with painstaking care, Chevy's born with it.

The only thing that may be hard to understand is how it can offer the ride it does, along with so many other luxury-car virtues, and still compete in the low-price field.

We use the word compete only in the sense of price. For with a ride as special as Chevy's, real competitors are hard to come by.

There's a world of difference between Chevrolet's coil springs at all four wheels and the leaf springs that most other cars still use. Take a Chevy down a snaky back road and you'll feel the difference in the sure way it holds through curves and shoots over rough spots with hardly a ripple. This one's made to travel and loves every minute of it.

Ag Research, Groundwater District Bills Pass

LB722, providing for a one-tenth mill special property levy for 5 years to finance research into new uses for agricultural products, passed the Legislature by a 37-3 margin Tuesday.

The measure weathered 12-25 an 11th hour move to send it back to select file to provide for administration of the some $400,000 a year in funds by the University of Nebraska college of agriculture.

Under the bill as passed, the money will be spent under the direction of the State Department of Agriculture and Inspection and a 6-man advisory committee.

The amendment proposed by Sen. John Cooper of Humboldt, in addition to changing the administering agency, would also have enlarged the advisory committee from 6 to 14 members to bring in a greater variety of agricultural interests.

The chairman of the agriculture committee, Sen. Hans Jensen of Aurora, and several other senators opposed the change. Jensen called it a "move in the wrong direction." He said the bulk of the money would be used by the college anyway because of the bill's provision that the agriculture department work with the college of agriculture.

Jensen also opposed enlargement of the committee on grounds it would make the advisory body unwieldy in operation.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff told colleagues he would vote for the measure although he said, "I don't think this bill is going to help this state 5 cents worth."

Carpenter said he felt only the federal government had the resources to engage in agricultural research.

Also passed Tuesday was LB554, a permissive bill authorizing the establishment of groundwater conservation districts in the state.

It's another step in the direction of control over the underground water supply in the state, increasingly used for irrigation.

LB554, introduced by Sens. Don Thompson of McCook, Hans Jensen of Aurora and Harold Stryker of Rising City, was approved 39-2.

Under the law, landowners would take the initiative in establishing hydrologically and geographically sound groundwater districts. A 55% majority vote at an election would be required.

Other bills passed on final reading:

LB247 (Education Committee)—Authorizing the state board of education to approve an otherwise disapproved school for collection of free high school tuition money where hardship would result to the students or where a substantial effort is being made to comply with rules and regulations. 34-5.

LB379 (Vocational)—Requiring that names be legibly shown on documents filed with the County Clerk and Register of Deeds. 40-0.

LB610 (Mellish, Marvel)—Providing procedure for converting a rural fire protection district into a suburban fire district. 36-4.

LB636 (Teva)—Increasing from $50 to $60 per month the amount the Board of Control may pay for maintaining children in private homes, boarding homes or incorporated institutions. 40-0.

LB652 (Peck, Mellish, Cooper)—Providing a Nebraska installment sales act. 35-5.

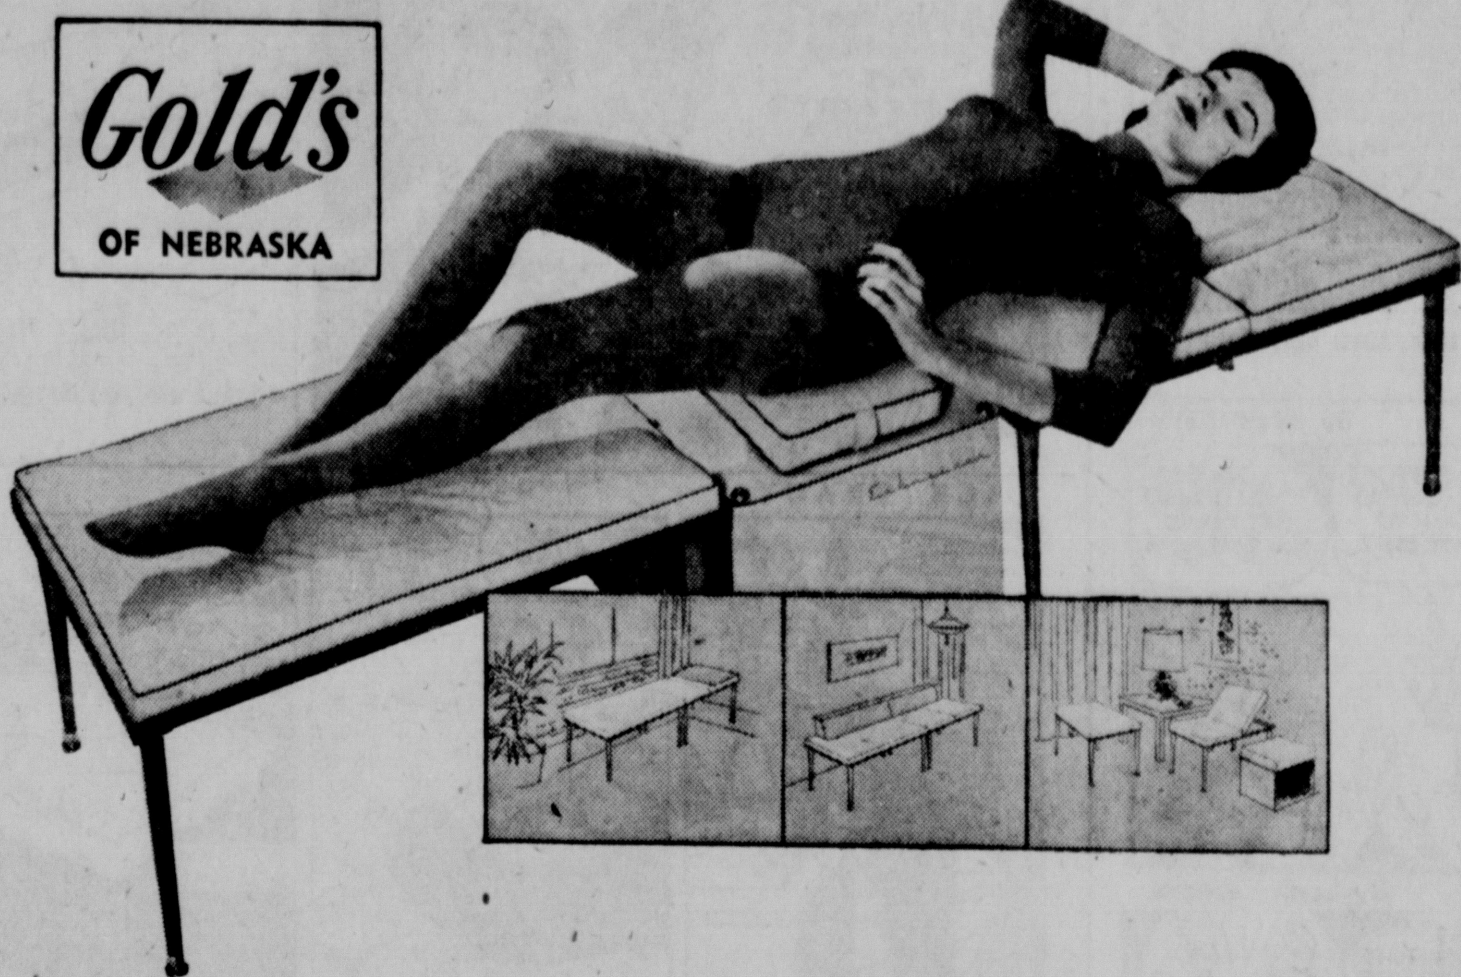

LB653 (Porter, Bowen, Otto)—Reducing from 9 months to 3 months the interval before foreclosure on certain city residential property when a mortgage still has more than 20 years to run. 40-1.

LB247 empowers the State Board of Education to prescribe standards for Nebraska schools and replaces a law recently declared unconstitutional by the Lancaster District Court.

'C' For Consistency

If the NCAA awarded the championship in the College World Series starting Friday in Omaha on the basis of consistency, the crown would most likely go to Colorado State College. The Bears from Greeley are making their 3rd straight appearance and 10th in the history of the tournament in which they have been a 9-time loser.

With a 24-5 record and boasting 3 hitters in the .400 bracket, the Bears are hoping for a reversal of form this time around. CSC won its 17th straight Rocky Mountain Conference championship and the District 7 playoff to earn a berth in the tournament.

Making his 3rd straight series appearance with CSC is senior first baseman Joe Peck, a Nebraska City product. Although he's the veteran of the team, Peck still is a chronic worrier.

Coach Pete Butler and his teammates try to reduce Joe's troubles by complimenting him on his fine defense, a phase of the game in which the slender left-hander excels. It's apparently been rewarding, since Joe claims "I've got the feel now."

'Rags To Riches'

For Oklahoma State, the Big 8 champion and District 5 representative in the tourney, the 1959 campaign has been a "rags to riches" story for coach Toby Greene. The Cowboys will be making their 4th NCAA appearance and first under the Big 8 banner.

OSU lost all but one regular from last year's Big 8 runner-up through pro raids, graduation or failure with the books. But Greene retained his 3 top pitchers from the year before and molded his 16th Cowboy club, spiced with a group of sophomores and upperclassmen who couldn't letter in 1958, into a fine team with a 22-4 record.

Ben Bancroft, who had hit only .118 the year before as a reserve infielder, is the Pokes' leading hitter with a .331 while Dick Soergel, OSU's all-star, leads Cowboy hurlers with a 7-0 slate.

Ratings Hold Up

Based on the final regular season poll of the American Association of College Baseball Coaches, only one dark horse—Penn State—made it to the Omaha series.

Teams which made the tournament, their records to date and rating in the poll are: Oklahoma State (22-4), 3rd; Connecticut (20-1), 4th; Arizona (36-8), 5th; Western Michigan (24-6), 6th; Clemson (23-6), 12th; Fresno State (38-11), 14th and Colorado State (24-5), 17th. Penn State brings a 15-4 mark into the tourney after winning the District 2 title.

Poll leader was Southern California, the defending champion, which wasn't eligible for the tourney because of an NCAA probation.

Recently, the Washington Senators conducted an information clinic on baseball for the benefit of feminine fans in the nation's capital.

Manager Cookie Lavagetto had just finished telling how the field was covered by a tarpaulin by the groundskeepers when rain halted play. Satisfied with his explanation he started the question-answer session.

The question: "What's a tarpaulin?"

Baltimore Gets Share Of First Place In AL

Loes Shuts Door To Beat Tribe, 7-3

Baltimore (AP)—Gene Woodling and Chico Carrasquel each slammed two-run homers Tuesday night to lead Baltimore to a 7-3 victory over Cleveland and boost the Orioles into a first-place tie in the American League.

Baltimore and Chicago, which lost to Washington, are locked with identical 29-24 records.

The huge Interfaith Night crowd—second largest in the Orioles modern major league history—also saw Broadway Billy Loes star in his relief chore specialty.

Loes came on in the 7th inning with no outs and the bases loaded. He got Woodie Held on a pop and struck out George Strickland and Minnie Mino.

The veteran right-hander, who preserved Ernie Johnson's 3rd victory of the season, also checked Cleveland without a hit in the 8th and 9th innings as the stumbling Indians dropped their 9th decision in the last 10 games.

Woodling connected for his 7th home run in the first inning, scoring behind Willie Tasby, who had walked.

Johnson singled with two out in the 6th and Carrasquel followed with a homer.

The Orioles also capitalized on two Cleveland errors in the 5th when they pushed across 3 runs, two of them unearned.

Cards Rout Spahn, Club Braves, 12-3

St. Louis (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, routing old nemesis Warren Spahn, collected 16 hits Tuesday night and walloped the Milwaukee Braves, 12-3, behind Larry Jackson's 7-hitter.

With San Francisco winning over Pittsburgh, Milwaukee's lead over the Giants was sliced to two games.

Spahn, who has beaten the Cardinals 53 times, suffered his 30th loss to them as his record was squared at 7-7.

The victory over the National League leaders also enabled the Redbirds to climb out of the basement as the Phillies lost to the Dodgers. It was the first St. Louis triumph over Milwaukee in 5 decisions this season.

Ken Boyer opened the scoring with a two-run homer, his 13th of the season, in the 4th inning. Spahn, who had defeated the Cardinals twice this year, was kayoed in a 3-run 5th featured by Bill White's two-run triple. White added two doubles later.

Stu Homers Again, But Bucs Lose, 6-2

Pittsburgh (AP)—John Antonelli gave up only five hits Tuesday night in pitching the San Francisco Giants to a 6-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The big southpaw fanned 8 and walked two in picking up his 8th victory of the year compared to 3 defeats.

The Pirates got both their runs off Antonelli with home runs, Don Hoak belted his 6th of the year over the left field wall in the 7th, and Dick Stuart walloped his 9th of the year over the same wall in the 9th.

The only other hits off Antonelli were singles by Harry Bright and Stuart with two outs in the first and a double by Henry Foiles in the 5th.

The Pirate starter, Vernon Law, pitched 6 innings and was charged with the loss. He is now 5-4.

Orlando Cepeda led the Giant's 11-hit attack. He collected two singles, a double and drove in two runs in 4 official times at bat. He struck out once.

Witt, whose record this season is 0-4, was placed on the disabled list May 9, suffering from an inflamed elbow. In his first season with the Pirates last year, Witt posted a 9-2 mark with a 1.61 earned run average.

Late Start For Second All-Star Tilt

New York (AP)—The second major league All-Star game on Monday, Aug. 3 in Los Angeles was booked for a late afternoon start Tuesday and baseball Commissioner Ford Frick said "the future of this additional game depends on what happens then."

With the late afternoon start, the contest would be seen in the early evening by millions of fans throughout much of the United States. Los Angeles is on daylight saving time and a 5 p.m. start would mean that it would be on the TV screen starting at 5 p.m. standard time in the Rocky Mountain area, 6 p.m. in the Central states and 7 p.m. in the Eastern time zone.

"We don't expect any 94,000," said Frick. "If we get 65,000 of 70,000 to see the game in the Coliseum that would be fine." The Dodgers' ball park has a capacity of 94,600.

The starting time of the second game will be either 4 or 5 p.m., Los Angeles time. The exact time will be set later after it is determined what transportation is available to get the players to the West Coast.

"It also gets darn hot in Los Angeles early in the afternoon," said Frick. "We have a full schedule of games in both leagues the day after the All-Star game and we have to work out transportation for all players. If the game is rained out there will be no postponement. It will be cancelled. There is no other available date."

Frick, who held a noon meeting with Presidents Warren Giles of the National League and Joe Cronin of the American, also revealed that All-Star managers Casey Stengel of New York and Fred Haney of Milwaukee each will be permitted to carry 28 players for the Los Angeles game, 3 more than for the regular All-Star game in Pittsburgh on July 7.

Both managers may also select different pitchers than those chosen for the July 7 game.

Judge Turns Down Return Bout Bid

New York (AP)—The Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight title is on for Yankee Stadium, June 25.

The last legal obstacle to this troubled promotion was cleared Tuesday when Federal Judge Irving Kaufman refused to halt the fight.

Judge Kaufman denied an application by California contender Eddie Machen for an injunction to prevent Johansson of Sweden from fighting world champion Patterson at the stadium.

Machen contended in federal court that Johansson had agreed to give him a return bout before he met Patterson or anyone else. Johansson, undefeated European champion, had knocked out Machen, then the No. 1 contender, in the first round at Goteborg, Sweden, last

Cubs Blast Reds

...8-4 Triumph

Chicago (A)—Three homers, including a 3-run blast by Bobby Thomson and a two-run shot by Ernie Banks, led the Chicago Cubs to a 8-4 victory over the Cincinnati Reds Tuesday.

Dale Long also homered after Banks' No. 14 smash in a 3-run Cub 7th which broke up a 4-4 tie and chased Cincinnati starter Joe Nuxhall. The Cubs slammed 16 hits off 3 Cincinnati pitchers.

The Reds had a two-run homer punched by Vada Pinson in the 5th of the see-saw game. Nuxhall was charged with his 4th loss against 3 victories. Bill Henry, who relieved Cub starter Bob Anderson in the 7th, got his 4th decision against two defeats.

Ord Bowling Plant Being Renovated

Lincoln Star Special

Ord—Ord Bowl, managed by Ray Freeman, will change from manually operated semi-automatic pin setters to completely automatic apparatuses this summer, owner M. E. Markley of North Loup has indicated.

The 6-year-old 8-lane plant is being renovated, Dr. Markley said, to improve accommodations for the influx of new bowlers in the Ord area and to make daytime bowling possible daily.

Manager Freeman will attend a 3-week training school beginning June 15 to learn operation and maintenance of the new equipment. The automatic equipment is expected to be put into use in early August.

State Fishing Continues Terrific

Nebraska lakes and streams rewarded anglers with another week of terrific fishing and some of the most diversified angling of the season, according to the statewide creel census conducted by the Game Commission.

Catfish were hitting the eastern section of the state; bluegill fishing was terrific in the Sand Hills; trout angling was hot in the western section; and the reservoir waters were giving up fine catches of largemouth bass, walleyes, crappie, and some white bass.

Bluegills and crappie provided the top fishing action to the reports. Harlan (Harlan) and Medicine Creek (Frontier) reservoirs were the hot spots for crappie. Conservation Officer Herman Schmidt said anglers at Medicine Creek should fish right in the willows, setting hooks to 12 to 15 inches deep. He said large crappies are being taken at the reservoir. Trolling is paying big dividends for walleye fishermen, he said.

With the warm weather, catfishing is picking up. Conservation officer Raymond Frandsen reports that Kenner's Fiord on the South Fork of the Nemaha (Richardson) was a happy spot last Sunday. Nearly all of the anglers were catching channel and blue catfish. The channels were running 3 and 4 pounds while some of the blues went as high as 10 pounds.

Loup Power Canal (Platte), Blue River (Jefferson), Millburn Dam (Blaine), Whitney Reservoir (Dawes), Republican River (Webster and Red Willow), and Missouri River (Dakota) were the other places providing fine catfishing. Conservation Officer Roy Owens checked 17 Blue River anglers who had 38 catfish, running from two to 9 pounds.

Medicine Lake (Cherry)

was a lively spot with 11 anglers taking a total of 231 bluegills. The fish are in the shallows to spawn and easy to catch. Alexandria (Jefferson) was another fine spot for bluegills.

The Niobrara River (Sioux) and White River (Sioux) were the best spots for trout.

Bullhead fishing provided fine action with the Elkhorn River (Dodge), Louisville (Cass), Alexandria, and Brown (Garden), the top spots.

Pershing Mat Cards Average 2,240 Fans

Nine professional wrestling cards at the Pershing Municipal Auditorium the past season drew a total of 20,162 fans, promoter Jack Pesek announced this week. Average attendance was 2,240.

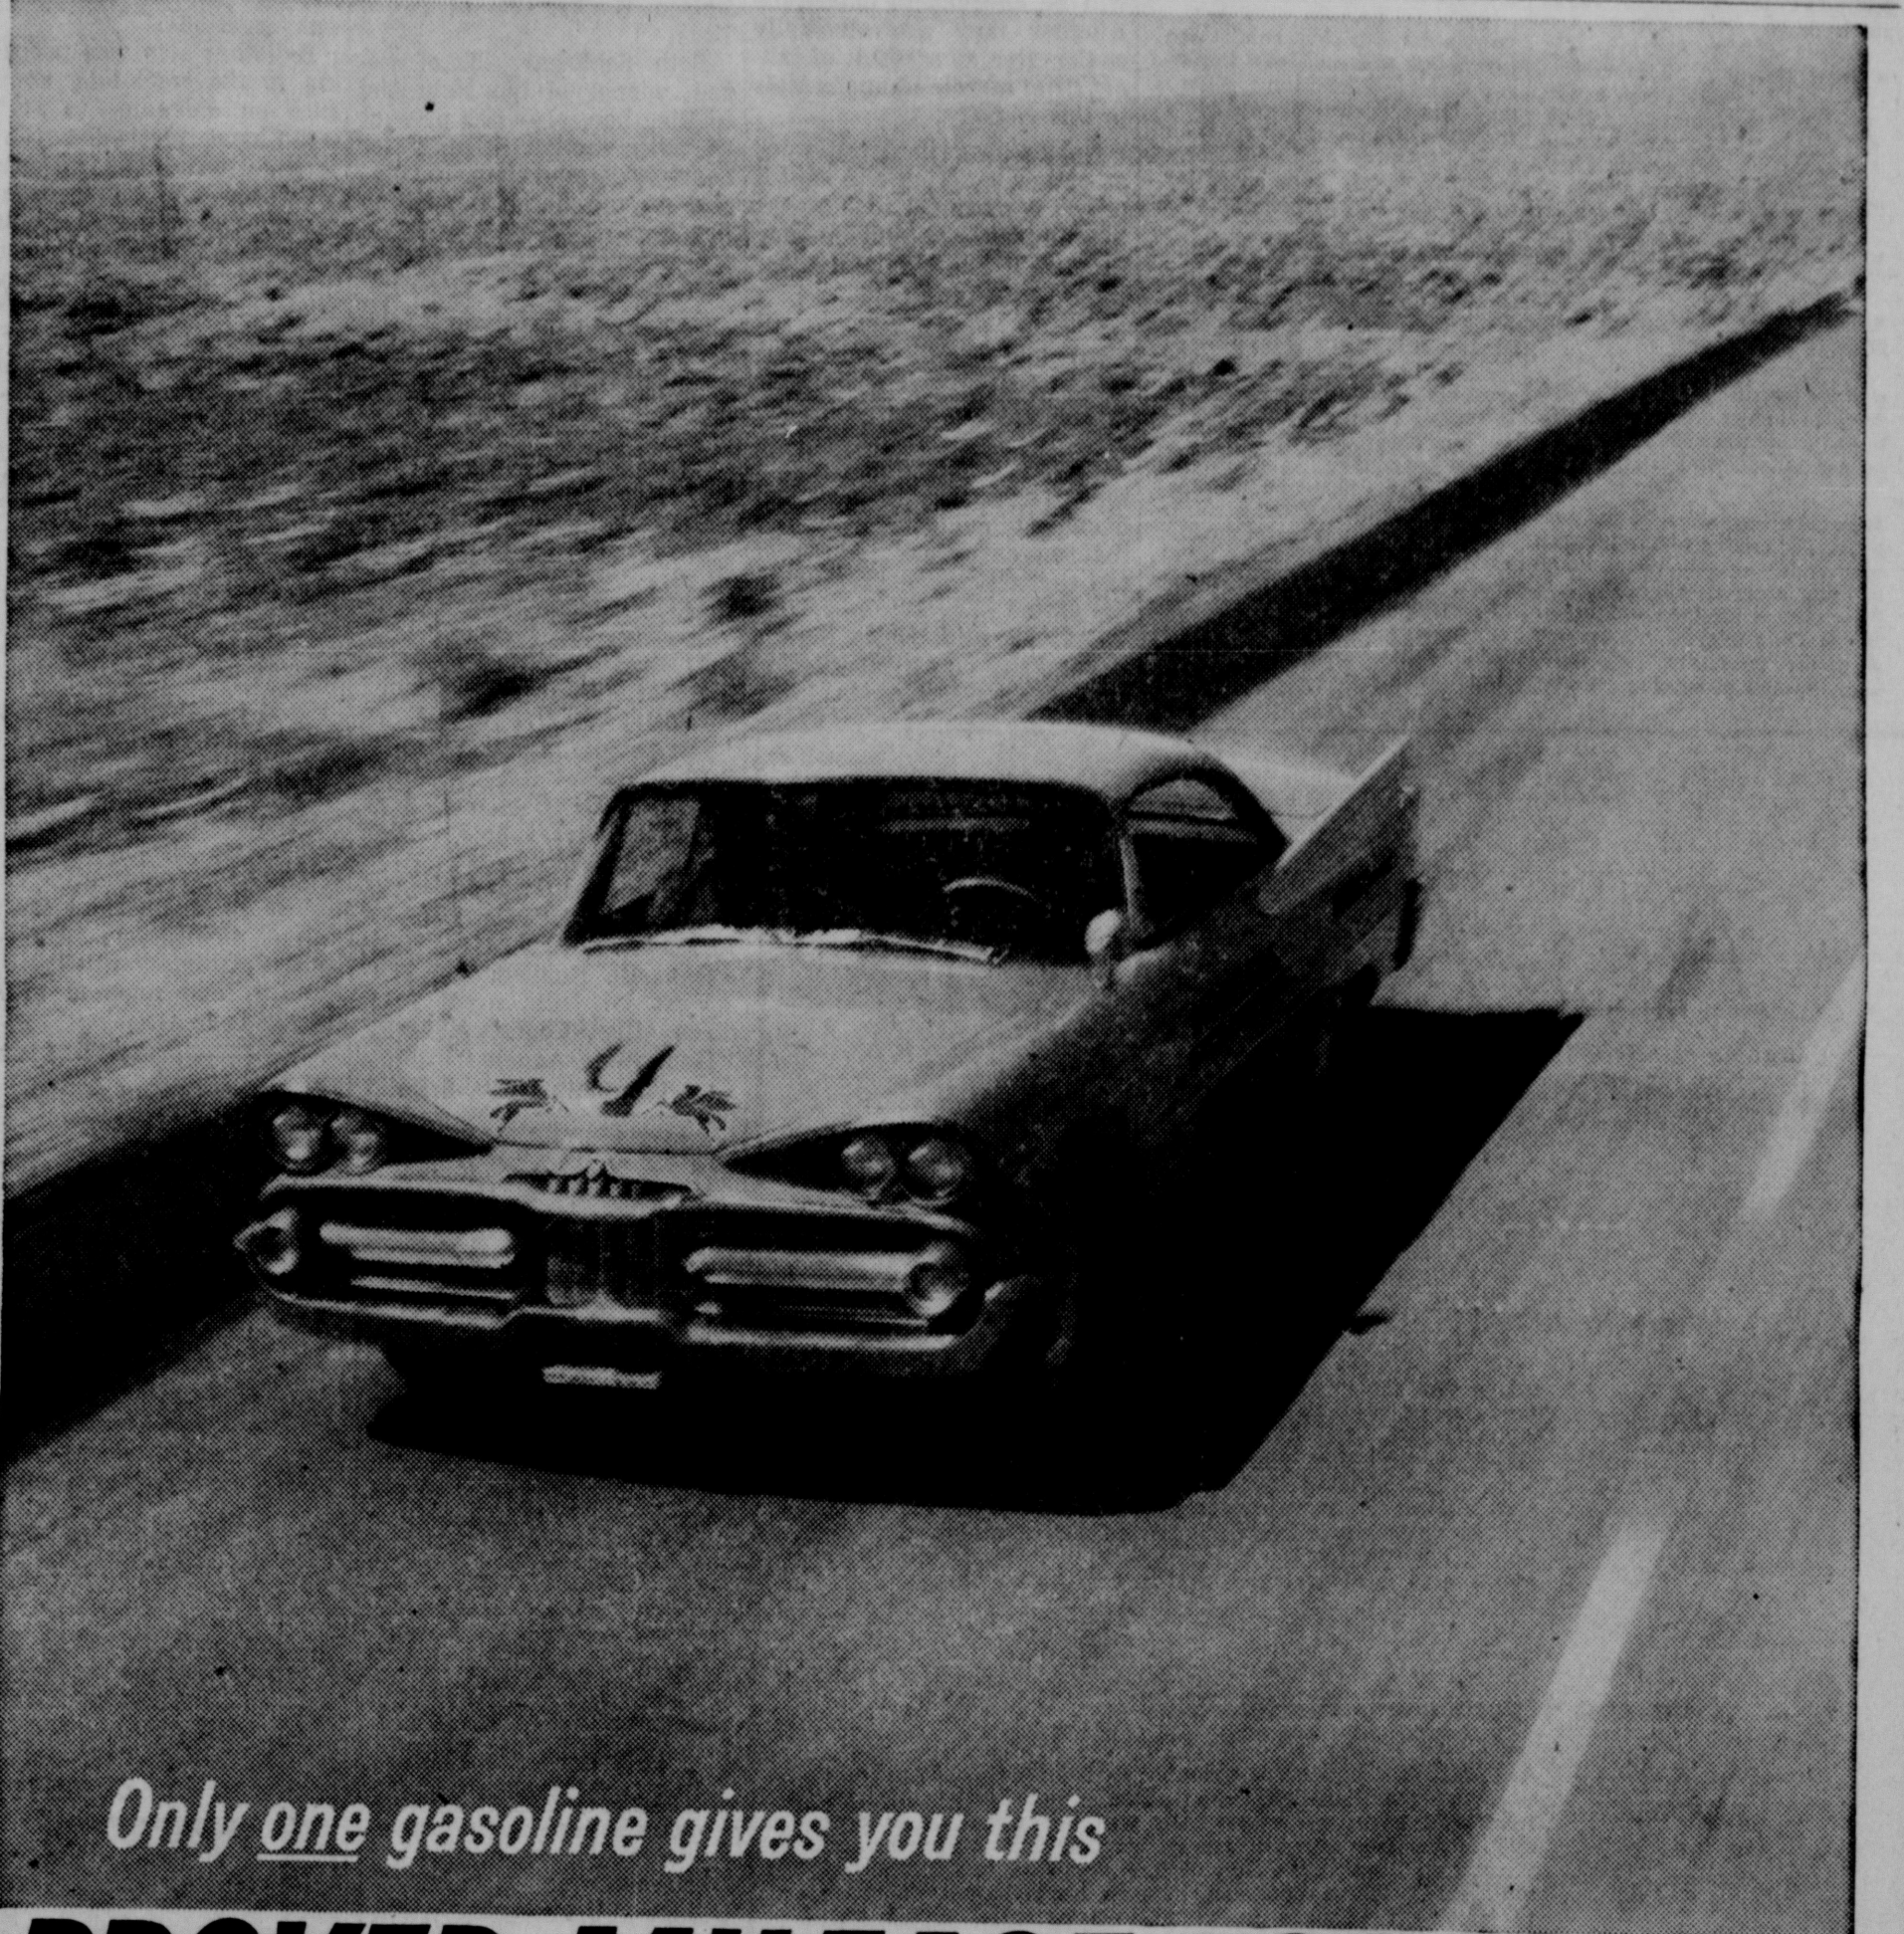

Tentative plans are being formulated, Pesek said, for August cards which would put into service the auditorium's mammoth air conditioning plant.

Public Works Funds OK'd By House

Nebraska Projects Included

Washington (AP)—The House Tuesday passed a bill to appropriate $1,177,000 to finance federal public works programs during the 12 months beginning July 1.

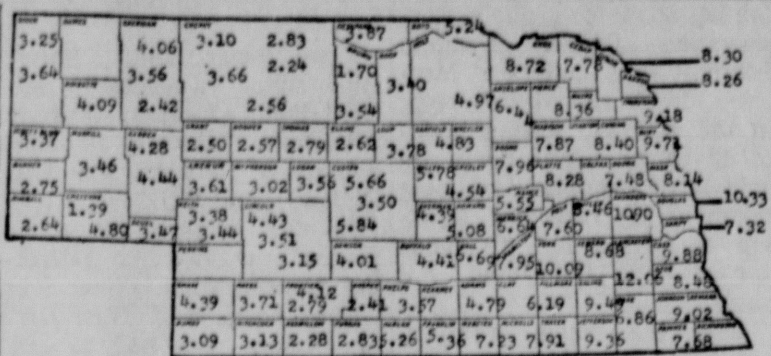

The roll call vote on passage was 280 to 20.

Before sending the bill to the Senate, the House affirmed by a 199-198 roll call vote a tentative action on last Friday which increased the bill's total to $500,000 more than President Eisenhower had recommended in his budget.

The measure included $350,000 for the Gering and Mitchell valleys flood control project but deleted a $50,000 item which had been included in the budget as planning funds for this project.

Nebraska Radioactivity Level Survey May Take Two Months

Washington (AP)—The Nebraska congressional delegation was told Tuesday it will take about two months to check the level of radioactivity in the state.

Curtis Nelson, director of inspection for the Atomic Energy Commission, said at a weekly breakfast meeting of the delegation that the survey is now under way.

He said samples of grains, milk, grass and other items will be checked to determine whether they are unusually radioactive as a result of fallout from atomic weapons tests in this country.

Nelson described the work as rather exacting and said it may take from 6 to 8 weeks to complete it "but at any rate we'll know what's there when we're through."

Sen. Roman Hruska (R-Neb.) told the delegation he requested the survey because he thought it would be a good idea to have the Nebraska situation looked into. He said the survey was not started because of evidence or reports that an excessive amount of radioactivity was present in the state.

But, he said, there have been "so many conflicting opinions and so much loose

Completion Of Corn Planting In State Expected This Week

Corn planting should be completed this week in all of Nebraska except Missouri River bottom land, government crop observers reported Tuesday.

Farmers got 28% of their corn acreage planted last week as warm, sunny weather dried the fields. That raised the planting job to 89% of completion by last weekend.

First Cultivation

Some corn is being cultivated for the first time and many farmers are using rotary hoes to break the crust as well as destroy weeds, according to the report.

Bringing Up Baby

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

With June "bust-in" out all over, planned tanning sessions are in order for sun-lovers. A few heiresses. A few sons and reminders for safe and happy sun basking.

- Start slowly... 2 minutes a day, divided twixt tummy and back. Increase by two minutes each day. Limit exposure to 30 minutes no matter how tan you think baby is.
- Be generous with baby oil. It protects skin, speeds tanning.
- Shun scorching midday hours. Sessions before midmorning or late afternoon are best, depending on nap schedules.

Strengthening influence for your baby. I'm talking about the rich supply of strength-giving, body-building proteins your baby gets from Gerber Strained and Junior Meats. Only selected Armour cuts are used. Special processing removes most of the fat and coarse tissue. All are pure meat, with just enough broth to bring out the best in the flavors. 8 Strained, 5 Junior varieties, including the new Junior Chicken. Serve any one to the tune of blissful sighs.

Double-duty division. Think twice before you toss out dad's frayed-at-the-neck shirts. Minus sleeves they make wonderful protectors for finger-painting toddlers. With sleeves they make fine dress protectors for you if you've a wee one to feed and burp.

Popular combinations for the younger generation. Gerber Strained or Junior High Meat Dinners are big favorites with small fry. That's because they have 3 times as much savory meat as regular vegetable and meat combinations. All this succulent meat is subtly blended with selected vegetables and cereal for perfectly wonderful flavor and a generous assortment of essential nutrients... protein aplenty, iron and high vitamin-A value. Gerber Baby Foods, Fremont, Michigan.

- Q. What is AD-ANSWER?
- A. AD-ANSWER is an entirely new field of Classified Advertising service—a service which can guarantee any advertiser in the Journal and Star Classified section sixteen-hour-a-day phone response to his advertisement. Very simply, AD-ANSWER accomplishes exactly what its slogan implies. It "answers your phone when you can't". This assures any advertiser the maximum response to his ad. AD-ANSWER is exclusive with the Journal and Star and one of the first of its kind in the United States.
- Q. How can I best use AD-ANSWER?
- A. AD-ANSWER can be of valuable assistance to both private advertisers and business men alike. Since the use of AD-ANSWER ensures that no calls will be missed, it enables any advertiser to go about his regular business and recreation despite the fact of having an ad in the Journal and Star. When necessary it also enables an advertiser to specify the hours in which to take calls on his own phone without loss of results during other hours.
- Q. How much does AD-ANSWER cost?
- A. There are two types of AD-ANSWER service—regular or deluxe. Regular service is available merely for the cost of inserting one additional line in your ad stipulating that you have subscribed to the service. This provides you with sixteen full hours of phone coverage, from 7 a.m. until 11 p.m. with AD-ANSWER accepting all calls during any periods in which you are not at home or in the office. Deluxe service is tailor-made for the harassed business man who wishes to receive calls only at specific hours and for whom the saving in time thus provided is well worth the charge of $1.00 per day.
- Q. How do I order AD-ANSWER?
- A. Very easy! Simply ask for AD-ANSWER SERVICE when you place your next Journal and Star Want Ad—(Dial 2-3331 or 2-1234).
- Q. How do I get the calls taken in my absence?
- A. You simply call AD-ANSWER (7-7873) when you are free, give your name and the phone number appearing in your ad. AD-ANSWER will then give you the names and phone numbers of prospects which were taken in your absence.

There will be 5 lay representatives and 5 ministerial representatives from the Nebraska conference.

The composite report of the district superintendents, presented to the conference by the Rev. Mr. Dickerson, said in part:

"Let's stop telling our young people not to become ministers unless they can't avoid it. God didn't do it that way. Besides this report, the conference also approved the report of the nominating committee on trusteeships for the various institutions supported by the affiliated with the conference, and adopted organizational rules."

Board Urged To Continue Transporting Park Manor Children

By Virgil Falloon
The Lincoln School Board was urged to continue transporting all Park Manor East children to Eastridge elementary school until a proposed school in the residential area is constructed.

The Park Manor East residents also urged that the school be constructed by the fall of 1960.

Protest Shift
They protested the proposed shift of 60 Park Manor East children in the 4th, 5th, and 6th grades from the Eastridge school to the Millard Lefler Junior High School for the 1959-60 school year.

School Supt. Steven N. Watkins said the shift was being necessitated by lack of classroom space at Eastridge.

Park Manor East residents protested the proposal as representing two and three school changes for their children in seven years.

This means, said one spokesman, that the children must make adjustments to new surroundings and to new classmates. "Frequent changing of schools is not good."

Additional Teachers
Dr. Watkins said that unless 60 Park Manor children are shifted to Millard Lefler it would require the hiring of 3 additional teachers and utilization of the Eastridge library for classroom space.

If the combination classroom practice was not used throughout the school system, he estimated the additional cost for teachers alone would be a quarter-million dollars.

The superintendent said that 200 Lincoln Air Force Base families, now living in Lincoln, will be placed in base housing by August.

He said this may affect the Eastridge area to the extent that a number of Park Manor children may not have to be transferred.

Only 5th, 6th Graders
If this develops, the Board tentatively suggested that only 5th and 6th grade students be shifted. These students would later enter 7th grade at Millard Lefler.

The board said that Park Manor East school plans are being developed for construction of the school by the school year 1961, but indicated a speed-up in any construction proposal was not possible.

In other action, the Board took under consideration a proposed modification of the Board's resolution concerning the proposed Handy System shopping center at 40th and South near Bryan elementary school.

The Board had okayed the shopping center plans if the entrance were 525 feet from the school property, but Atty. R. A. Vestecka said because of an error, the entrance could be not more than 500 feet.

Amending Deferred
The Board deferred any amending action until school officials could consult with the city planning department.

$2,000 Starch Scholarship To Beatrice Youth
Stephen Scott Lovell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Lovell, of Beatrice, has been awarded the 4-year $2,000 National Starch Products, Inc. Scholarship to attend the University of Nebraska next year.

Lovell, who will receive $500 a year for 4 years from the scholarship, was graduated this spring from Beatrice High School where he was an honor roll student for 4 years and ranked in the upper 5% of his class. He is also a University of Nebraska Regents' Scholarship alternate. During high school, Lovell worked about 25 hours a week in a Beatrice grocery store.

The scholarship is designed to encourage high school graduates to attend the University and receive training leading to a profession in chemistry or chemical engineering.

Three Schools Get New Principals
The School Board okayed new principals for 3 schools during the 1959-60 school year. They are:

Ruth Eickman, assistant principal at Pershing, to be principal at Norwood Park school.

Robert Norman, principal at Norwood Park, to be principal of Belmont and West Lincoln schools.

John Sipma, principal at Belmont, to be principal at Park school.

Also received from the Lancaster Association for Mental Health was a letter endorsing a Lincoln Youth Project proposal that a school social work experimental project be established in the school system for the location and treatment of troubled and maladjusted children.

Express Views
However, the Board indicated representatives of the association would be invited to appear and express their views further on the subject.

No action was taken on the proposed hardtop surface for Huntington School. Its construction would be financed by the Huntington PTA. A specific proposal was requested before any final decision is made.

Dr. Watkins reported that the schools will be able to take advantage of some $35,000 of the $53,562 available this budget year as 50-50 matching funds available under the National Defense Education Act.

The funds, he said, will be used in the remodeling of the science laboratories and for science equipment being purchased.

Entire Amount Not Used
He reported that allocation for this fiscal year came at a time that the entire amount could not be used, but similar allocations will be available in the 1959-60 fiscal year.

The Board approved the proposed opening of High from 40th to 39th adjacent to Southeast High School. It was noted that High would eventually be opened to 37th and would provide desirable traffic circulation around the school site without forcing this traffic onto Sheridan Blvd.

Also received from the Lancaster Association for Mental Health was a letter endorsing a Lincoln Youth Project proposal that a school social work experimental project be established in the school system for the location and treatment of troubled and maladjusted children.

Express Views
However, the Board indicated representatives of the association would be invited to appear and express their views further on the subject.

No action was taken on the proposed hardtop surface for Huntington School. Its construction would be financed by the Huntington PTA. A specific proposal was requested before any final decision is made.

Dr. Watkins reported that the schools will be able to take advantage of some $35,000 of the $53,562 available this budget year as 50-50 matching funds available under the National Defense Education Act.

The funds, he said, will be used in the remodeling of the science laboratories and for science equipment being purchased.

Entire Amount Not Used
He reported that allocation for this fiscal year came at a time that the entire amount could not be used, but similar allocations will be available in the 1959-60 fiscal year.

The Board approved the proposed opening of High from 40th to 39th adjacent to Southeast High School. It was noted that High would eventually be opened to 37th and would provide desirable traffic circulation around the school site without forcing this traffic onto Sheridan Blvd.

Salary Increase Bills Are Revived

By Betty Person

Two bills were resurrected by the Legislature Tuesday morning — LB624, originally designed to increase the size of the Legislature, but now to be used only as a vehicle to increase member's salaries, and LB335, giving a $15 a month increase to reserve teachers.

The Legislature just Monday had voted 26-10 to kill LB624, introduced by Sen. George Syas of Omaha, which had proposed a constitutional amendment to increase the Legislature to 65 members and authorize a salary of $250 a month for each member.

Sen. Michael Russillo of Omaha moved for reconsideration of the bill. He urged that it be made strictly a salary bill on the grounds that until a salary hike is granted members, there will be no increase in the size of the membership.

Legislative salaries are now set by the constitution with a lump sum to be divided equally amongst the lawmakers. It results in an annual salary of $872 a year for 43 members.

The constitution also provides that the membership can range from 30 to 50 members, and Russillo suggested that if the constitutional amendment for a salary increase is granted in 1960, the 1961 Legislature can consider increasing the size to 50 members.

Sen. Russillo drew verbal support from Sens. Terry Carpenter, David Tews of Norfolk, Don Thompson of McCook, and Syas for his proposal which carried 29-9.

No Reapportionment

Sen. Hal Bridenbaugh of Dakota City and Sen. A. A. Fenske of Sunol expressed concern, however, that it could eventually lead to reapportionment which would give too much representation to Lincoln and Omaha.

Bridenbaugh said, "I know it's (membership increase) coming and I know where it's going to go, but I want reapportionment to come from a constitutional convention."

Sen. John Adams of Omaha, who introduced LB335 which was killed by the Education Committee, pleaded for raising the bill on the grounds that the few reserve teachers remaining were entitled to a larger monthly payment than the present $30.

Reserve teachers are those who retired from the Nebraska school system prior to establishment of the teachers retirement system.

He said there were still funds available for the $15 a month increase.

Stan Delaplane's POSTCARD

"I am in desperate trouble and I don't know who to turn to," she said on the telephone.

Well, that is my desperate child, all right. She has been in desperate straits as long as I can remember.

About 15 going on 16 desperate years.

"I don't know who to turn to," she said desperately.

"Don't turn to me," I cried. "Turn to President Eisenhower."

"Daddy!" she said. The knife in the back.

"Oh, well," I said weakly. "What is it?"

Having gained this advantage, you could hear her voice settle down. She was winners and she knew it.

"Well, you know mother's Bermuda shorts?" The new linen ones?

"Go on."

"Well, it wasn't my fault."

Honest. It was the waitress."

"What waitress?"

"The waitress in the restaurant. She spoke to me and I turned around."

"What about the Bermudas?"

"That's what I'm trying to TELL you, if you'll just listen. You see, I didn't have ANYTHING to wear. And we wanted to go to this restaurant, you know? Just for a little snack in the afternoon."

"I thought you were on a diet."

"I am. But—well, anyway. Will you listen? I'm in desperate trouble and I don't know WHO to turn to."

"Anyway, it WASN'T my fault," she said. "Only the fork slipped just a little."

"Is this a history of your life?" I said politely.

"I'm trying to TELL you."

"Tell then."

"Anyway," she said desperately, "the blueberry pie went on the shorts."

"On your mother's new Bermudas?"

"Yes, Daddy."

"You borrowed them?"

"Yes, Daddy."

"And you didn't ask first?"

"No, Daddy. But I COULDN'T. Because she was out. And I didn't have a THING to wear and—"

"Boy! Are YOU going to catch it!" I said cheerfully.

"Oh, Daddy!"

Was a time when the child's confiding woes filled me with alarm. But I have become hardened over the years. A man could not stand the emotion I am called upon to handle.

I advised her to call the cleaner and ask for advice.

The cleaner is a younger, cleaner man. I've got to have assistance in this business. My emotions are all ground down. I am desperate and don't know who to turn to. And that's the fact, ma'am.

Solons Refuse To Raise Speeder, Head Tax Bills Killed In Committee

By Betty Person

The Legislature Tuesday afternoon turned thumbs down on moves to raise two bills killed by committee.

For one of the measures, it was the second attempt in two days.

The bills turned down were LB718, the governor's bill to impose stiffer penalties for violation of the state's speed laws, and the head tax bill, LB713.

Sen. Oliver Olinger of Tekamah made the motion to revive the speed law bill, stating that the evergrowing number of traffic fatalities make it mandatory to take "drastic action to take care of this drastic situation."

The bill, which was killed on a 6-1 vote of the Judiciary Committee, would have required a mandatory 72-hour suspension of a drivers license for each subsequent offense. It also would have authorized increased fines and jail sentences along the line.

Sen. Joe Vosoba of Wilber, joining Olinger in the fight to raise the bill, said the Legislature has a "duty and obligation" to do something about traffic safety.

He and Olinger agreed that this bill as drawn was "too harsh", but said they had amendments to offer which might make the measure more palatable to the lawmakers.

In a parliamentary hassle, Sen. Olinger moved to have the vote on reviving the bill held over for two days, but the presiding officer, Speaker Harry Pizer of North Platte, ruled that the vote must be taken immediately.

When the vote was taken on sustaining the chair's ruling, Pizer himself voted against the ruling he had made, the bill was then considered and remained dead by a vote of 18-24.

Sen. John Adams of Omaha, who was absent Monday, voted to reconsider LB713 which would reduce the head tax from $3.50 to $2 and lower the maximum age limit covered from 60 to 50 years.

As it did Monday, the motion fell one short of obtaining the 22 ayes necessary to revive the bill when it received a 21-20 vote. The vote Monday had been 21-15.

Sen. John Munnelly of Omaha, chief sponsor of the measure, said he may try again Wednesday to resurrect the bill.

In other action Tuesday, the Legislature voted 36-0 in favor of bringing back for amendment LB723, which is now on the desk of Gov. Ralph Brooks awaiting his signature.

The bill was originally introduced to exempt certain types of trailers from the requirement in LB381 that all such vehicles must have brakes.

Sen. Norman Otto of Kearney said LB381 in working a hardship on alfalfa truckers whose trailers are just over the 3-ton limit not required to have brakes, a situation which could be corrected through amendments to LB723.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff also gave notice that he will try Wednesday to revive LB633, the weather control district bill killed Monday.

Polio Claims Third Victim In Nebraska

The death of Donald Smith, 24, of Fairbury brought the state's polio death total for 1959 to 3. All 3 polio deaths have been paralytic cases.

An 8th case was reported by the State Health Department Tuesday. The victim is a 17-year-old girl from Auburn. The case was described as non-paralytic, and the girl had not been inoculated against polio.
